Compromise Farm Measure Is Reached

Committee Leaders
Serve Notice To Ike
That This Is It

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A Senate-House Conference Committee tonight agreed upon a compromise farm bill—and committee leaders served notice on President Eisenhower that it is this bill or nothing.

The big measure contains a "soil bank" system of payments to farmers, plus 90 per cent price supports for basic crops this year. Eisenhower wants the soil bank but thoroughly dislikes the 90 per cent mandatory supports.

He and Secretary of Agriculture Benson plan to go into a huddle on the dilemma tomorrow morning. Meantime neither had any comment.

Still Have To Act

House and Senate have still to act upon the compromise. This action is scheduled for next week. Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said flatly that either President Eisenhower "takes it or there is no farm bill" this session.

Chairman Cooley (D-N.C.) of the House Agriculture Committee also predicted Congress would not pass another general farm bill this year if this one is vetoed.

The two chairmen, who headed their respective conference groups, said they expected the compromise bill would pass the House and Senate next week and be on Eisenhower's desk by Friday.

Cooley had some reservations, however. He said he was "a little bit apprehensive" of a possible hitch in the House which might result in a Republican move to send the bill back to conference.

Will Be Called Up

Cooley said the measure will be called up in the House Wednesday and the outcome there should be known quickly. House rules limit debate on a Senate-House compromise effort to one hour.

There is no limit on Senate debate, but Ellender said he expected fast action.

The measure to be submitted for acceptance or rejection by the Senate and House is a two-weeks distillation of widely divergent farm bills passed by the two chambers.

As the committee put the finishing touches on the bill, Secretary Benson cut short a trip home to Salt Lake City and flew back to Washington.

Ellender emphasized to reporters that attorneys and other experts from Benson's department had sat in on the Conference Committee sessions and "helped us get out any bugs" that might make the bill administratively unworkable.

Eisenhower and Benson both have said some provisions in the measure were unsound and unworkable, although Eisenhower (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

French Troops Battle Rebels

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 6 (AP)—French Troops with reinforcements brought up by helicopter battled two strong groups of Algerian nationalists today in the Nememta Mountains about 100 miles south of Constantine.

A strong French patrol encountered a rebel group firmly entrenched among rocks near Djelf yesterday and fighting began. Despite losses, the patrol managed to keep the rebels engaged while reinforcements were called up.

Bad weather prevented the French air force from joining the battle yesterday, but from dawn today helicopters have been used to add weight to the French attack.

Latest reports from French military sources here said two strong rebel bands were holding out in what they called chaotic and tormented terrain. The French said they were unable to learn how many casualties they had inflicted because the rebels remained hidden among their rocks.

No figure was given for French losses.

Stevenson Raps Kefauver For Disrupting Unity

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 6 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson today rapped Estes Kefauver, his rival for Florida's 28 Democratic National Convention votes in the May 29 primary, charging the Tennessee senator with threatening party unity.

Stevenson in a speech to the Jacksonville Bar Assn. also charged that his opponent for the Democratic presidential nomination was absent from the Senate when votes were taken on a number of vital measures.

Kefauver at a news conference in New Jersey asserted even before Stevenson spoke here that the former Illinois governor was "slinging some mud."

Stevenson said he had been counseled by some in running his campaign to "give 'em hell" but "I think I'll do worse. I'll give 'em the truth."

"And one of the truths is that there may be such a thing as wanting to be president too badly," Stevenson said. "And that may be one of the reasons why none of Senator Kefauver's colleagues in the Senate have endorsed him and so few of the party's leaders around the country."

Stevenson then charged Kefauver was absent on a number of occasions when Senate votes on major issues were taken. He listed some of them:

"In 1948 when the Senate passed the displaced persons bill and again in 1952 when it overrode President Truman's veto of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act."

"When the Senate voted on the troops-to-Europe resolution in 1952 and again in 1954 when the Senate voted on the Kennedy amendment to halt the 'New look' reduction in our defense strength."

"When the reciprocal trade bills were passed in 1948, 1949, 1951 and 1954."

"When public housing was an issue in 1948 and 1951 and 1954."

"When the raising of postal rates was being considered in 1954."

"When the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 with all its Dixon-Yates public power implications was passed."

Slayer, 27, Goes To Death Fighting, Claims Innocence

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., April 6 (AP)—With blood spurting from a self-inflicted gash in his throat, Robert O. Pierce, 27-year-old gunman, died in the gas chamber today in "the most violent execution" in San Quentin's history, screaming "I'm innocent! I'm innocent!"

Pierce fought, cursed and pleaded to God up to the moment of his death at 10:15 a.m.

Pierce and quiet Smith E. Jordan, 28, were executed together for the $7 robbery-murder of an Oakland taxicab driver, which both insisted they didn't commit.

"I'm innocent," Pierce screamed as four guards dragged him to the gas chamber. "I'm innocent. Don't let me go like this, God!"

He had slashed his throat only moments before in the death cell as a Catholic priest, the Rev. Edward Dingberg, knelt in prayer at his feet. He cut himself with a three inch sliver of broken mirror.

Education Group Gets Ike's Praise

Committee Submits
Optimistic Report
To The President

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The committee for the White House conference on education wound up its work today with a "well done" from President Eisenhower and an estimate that America should double its expenditures on education in the next 10 years.

The committee, which conducted last winter's big conference, submitted a sober but generally optimistic report to the President.

It pictured the nation's schools as far less than what the people would like—or could pay for—but it declared, "There is far more to be proud of in today's schools than there is to criticize."

Ike Is Complimentary

Chairman Neil H. McElroy, president of the Procter & Gamble Co., said at a news conference that Eisenhower "commented in complimentary terms about the work of the committee, particularly in connection with the conduct of the White House conference as well as the preliminary state conferences."

"He indicated that public interest in education has been built up in a way that is encouraging to him," McElroy added.

Sharpest questioning at the news conference was directed at a portion of the report that one member acknowledged was a "fence-straddling" position on racial desegregation.

McElroy commented, "The matter had been taken under the wing of the Supreme Court before the conference was held, and we considered it would be . . . more proper to put our effort on things we could do something about."

He pointed out that the committee stated in its report that it "did not resolve satisfactorily" the desegregation issue. The report called for the problem to be worked out in each community "within the intent of the relevant Supreme Court decisions."

Is Strong Feeling

The "fence-straddling" remark came from Joseph C. McLaughlin, principal of Mamaroneck (N.Y.) senior high school, who said there was "a strong feeling that the question should be at least considered." It was not outstanding as an issue in reports made at last winter's conference.

The committee reported that classroom construction is lagging behind foreseeable need by some 1,500 a year and that annual recruitment of new teachers is only about a third of what is needed.

It said, "It seems obvious that within the next decade the dollars spent on education in this nation should be approximately doubled."

Young Slayer Gets Suspended Sentence

EASTON, Md., April 6 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Charles Bradley Blades, convicted of manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of his father, was given a suspended sentence and put on five years probation today.

The youth testified his father, George Nelson Blades, 49, was drunk and was beating his mother at the time of the shooting March 7.

Judge J. DeWeese Carter ordered the young carpenter's apprentice to pay the court costs out of his own earnings.

April Showers Splatter Most Of Nation

[By The Associated Press]
April showers splattered large areas in the United States Friday. Rain fell from the eastern part of the Gulf Coast northward into the Ohio Valley and also dampened the Middle Atlantic States. Rain and snow pelted the northern and central sections of the Plains. Strong winds sent dust whirling in the Southern Plains area and in part of the Central Plains. Dust in the air was reported in eastern New Mexico, Colorado and nearby parts of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas.

Hammaraskjold Leaves For Trip To Middle East

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold took off by plane tonight on his Middle East peace mission. He said he was approaching it in a hopeful spirit.

He headed for London and Rome for preliminary talks on reducing Israeli-Arab tensions. Later, he goes to Jerusalem. Hammarskjold told reporters at Idlewild Airport: "I have nothing but hope and good will toward the nations concerned and expect to receive co-operation from them."

"Something useful should be done and something useful can be done. The latest developments, if anything, add further reasons for this mission and increase the significance of this decision of the Security Council."

The reference to developments concerned renewed outbreaks of fighting along the Gaza Strip. Hammarskjold continued: "Under such circumstances, I feel that I may look with hope to the future and expect results, not even any immediate results, but results which will bring us closer to the orderly progress which we all desire for that part of the world and our harassed friends in that region."

Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, Deputy U.S. representative to the U.N., saw Hammarskjold off and told him: "We ask no miracles. We do hope most earnestly that the parties, through your good offices will agree on practical steps to relieve tension. . . . Our prayers go with you."

Earlier, at U.N. headquarters, Hammarskjold conferred with key Israeli and Arab delegates.

He said, "I got out and worked to help Mr. Stevenson and the Democratic party."

"I'm sorry that Mr. Stevenson feels he now must engage in mud slinging," he said. "He's not in character in doing it."

"I intend to continue my campaign as I have in the past and I am not going to engage in personalities and mud slinging."

"We'll turn the other cheek. I think people want the issues discussed."

Stevenson, one of Kefauver's opponents for the Democratic nomination, had accused Kefauver earlier today of hurting the Democratic party with his campaign tactics.

The 1952 Democratic standard bearer said Kefauver had been absent from the Senate when several major measures were up for a vote, and that in his campaign Kefauver had hurt the party by criticizing Stevenson supporters of being aligned with political bosses.

But Kefauver denied that he had been absent "on any important votes that I remember."

Some of the bills mentioned by Stevenson, he said, came up for action many years ago, including some in 1948 when Kefauver was a member of the House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution won't use any new-fangled voting machines in electing national officers at their convention in mid-April.

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The Warsaw radio said tonight Vladyslaw Gomulka, ex-deputy prime minister of Poland and secretary of the Polish party Central Committee, has been released from prison and rehabilitated.

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Joseph C. Sampson, 32, key witness in the murder conspiracy trial of Martin J. Yamin, was sentenced in Federal Court today to two years in prison on a narcotics charge.

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The award was made to Patricia Ann Strickland, a pretty 14-year-old brunette from Atlanta, Ga., today received from President Eisenhower the Young American Medal for bravery.

The award was made to Patricia Ann for "exceptional courage attended by extraordinary decision" in saving the life of her mother in an air crash on May 8, 1954.

The President told her, "I have decorated a lot of people in my time but very few people for saving lives."

Patricia Ann's father, Lionel H. Strickland, an Atlanta police officer, was piloting a small aircraft and had as passengers his wife and Patricia Ann.

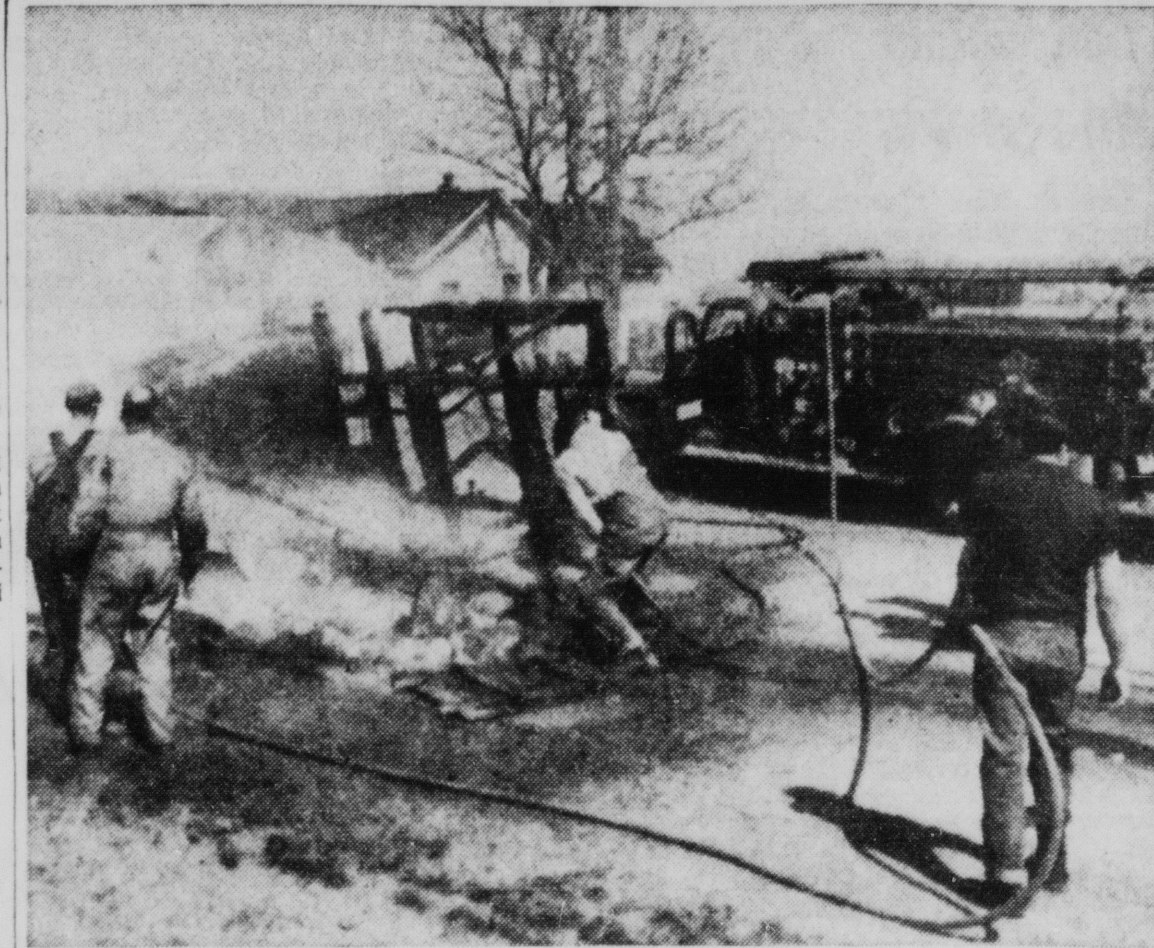

He was landing the craft when it stalled and crashed. Exploding flames caused the aircraft to burst into flames. Patricia Ann was thrown clear of the flaming wreckage.

The girl, then 12 and barely weighing 60 pounds, ran back to the plane and dragged her critically injured mother to safety.

She attempted to assist her father who was trapped in the aircraft but was restrained by others at the scene. Her father died.

One airport official said that adults stood nearby and watched Patricia Ann but were either too frightened or too shocked to help. Patricia Ann's mother attended today's White House ceremony.

The medal was established by Congress in 1950 to provide recognition for boys and girls 18 or younger who performed outstanding acts of bravery or unusual and outstanding service during each calendar year. Recommendations for awards are made by state governors.

Kefauver Says Adlai Engages In Mud Slinging

NEWARK, N.J., April 6 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver charged today that Adlai E. Stevenson had begun engaging in mud slinging "in the manner of a man who is desperate" and that such a course will "hurt the Democratic party."

"Stevenson is not talking sense—he is simply talking nonsense," the Tennessee Democratic presidential aspirant told a news conference during his opening campaign tour for New Jersey's 36 Democratic convention votes. He called the news conference at the Paterson City Hall after reading of Stevenson's attack on him at Jacksonville, Fla.

"I didn't cry after I lost in the Democratic convention in 1952," he said, "I got out and worked to help Mr. Stevenson and the Democratic party."

"I'm sorry that Mr. Stevenson feels he now must engage in mud slinging," he said. "He's not in character in doing it."

"I intend to continue my campaign as I have in the past and I am not going to engage in personalities and mud slinging."

Top Diplomat To Head U.S. Observers At Meeting Of Baghdad Pact On April 16

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The United States announced today one of its top diplomats will head a delegation of U.S. observers at the April 16 meeting of the Baghdad Pact at Tehran.

He is Loy W. Henderson, deputy undersecretary and veteran Middle East expert.

Lincoln White, State Department spokesman who made the announcement, emphasized however that, "We are not prepared to adhere to it—the pact—at this time."

Henderson, as White put it, "knows the Middle East area very well." His selection was deliberately decided upon by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, it was learned, to demonstrate U.S. support of the five-nation alliance against communism, even though this country has no immediate plans for joining it.

Three Masked Men Rob Labor Head Of $12,000 On Street

ST. LOUIS, April 6 (AP)—Three masked men, two of them armed, robbed a St. Louis labor official of $12,195 today in a daring street holdup.

Raymond George, financial secretary of Local 25 of the United Auto Workers, told police the men in a panel truck forced his car to the curb in North St. Louis.

Two of the men leaped out, took the money from the front seat of George's auto and then fled in their truck.

George was returning to the union office after withdrawing the money from the Mound City Trust Co. to cash payroll checks for union members who work at the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants.

One of the men was armed with a shotgun, another with a pistol. The third man remained in the truck. All had the tops of women's stockings pulled over their faces and were dressed in work clothes.

New Artillery Duel Stopped By UN Appeal

Efforts Are Speeded
Up For New Peace
After Border Shelling

JERUSALEM, April 6 (AP)—A fresh artillery duel between Israeli and Egyptian forces on the Gaza Strip frontier heightened tension in the Middle East today while U. N. officials were speeding a new peace effort.

Today's clash was brief and apparently was halted by invoking the U. N. cease-fire appeal that finally ended yesterday's much bloodier clash. A U. N. report said 55 Egyptians and four Israelis were killed in border shelling around the town of Gaza yesterday.

Claim Soldier Killed

The Egyptians claimed one Egyptian soldier was killed in the exchange of gunfire today and 63 soldiers and civilians killed yesterday. Israel said its casualties yesterday were four soldiers and two civilians.

Egyptian spokesmen accused Israel of deliberately planning the incidents. They said Israel launched "a premeditated attack on the civilian population" to coincide with departure from New York of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold with U. N. Security Council instructions to seek means of easing Israeli-Arab tension.

Israeli spokesmen claimed Egyptian troops started the shooting both yesterday and today and asserted that Egypt has three times the number of troops it is allowed in the Gaza area under armistice terms.

Although the Gaza frontier was quiet after the one-hour duel today, the situation was considered grave enough for Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U. N. truce supervisor, to postpone his trip to Rome to confer with Hammarskjold.

The Egyptian spokesmen in Cairo claimed U. N. personnel in the area of the clashes were unable to conduct investigations because of "intense feeling among the Arab population." The Egyptian statement reported both truce observers and officers of the U. N. Relief and Works Agency were confined to U. N. truce headquarters at Gaza and "the psychological condition of the inhabitants" prevented their leaving.

Yesterday's shelling from the Israeli side, the Egyptians said, was concentrated on Gaza and the towns of Khan Yunis and Dair el Ballah. One Egyptian said the Israelis knew there are no strong Egyptian military bases in this sector.

"There is almost nothing there but about 200,000 refugees," he said.

The U. N. observer report said today's firing was near the Gaza airfield.

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Leyes Olson, 54, was sentenced today to 13 to 14 years in prison for shooting a woman she considered her rival for a widower's love.

The sentence was pronounced by Judge Robert E. Larkin in Circuit Court after hearing testimony by Mrs. Olson and her victim, Miss Elsa Kussler, 43. Mrs. Olson had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder Miss Kussler.

Miss Kussler told the court of the shooting Jan. 14 in the law office of S. J. Holderman, chairman of the Illinois State Industrial Commission. Mrs. Olson said she felt Miss Kussler had won over Holderman's affection. Holderman said he had no romantic interest in either woman. Miss Kussler was his secretary.

The victim said Mrs. Olson shot her twice in the shoulder and once in the chin, then beat her about 15 times with the pistol until she pleaded she was dying and asked to be "let alone."

Still pending is a $150,000 damage suit brought by Miss Kussler against Mrs. Olson. She said the shooting cost her the use of her right arm and left eye.

Committee Submits Optimistic Report To The President

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The committee for the White House conference on education wound up its work today with a "well done" from President Eisenhower and an estimate that America should double its expenditures on education in the next 10 years.

The committee, which conducted last winter's big conference, submitted a sober but generally optimistic report to the President.

It pictured the nation's schools as far less than what the people would like—or could pay for—but it declared, "There is far more to be proud of in today's schools than there is to criticize."

Ike Is Complimentary

Chairman Neil H. McElroy, president of the Procter & Gamble Co., said at a news conference that Eisenhower "commented in complimentary terms about the work of the committee, particularly in connection with the conduct of the White House conference as well as the preliminary state conferences."

"He indicated that public interest in education has been built up in a way that is encouraging to him," McElroy added.

Sharpest questioning at the news conference was directed at a portion of the report that one member acknowledged was a "fence-straddling" position on racial desegregation.

McElroy commented, "The matter had been taken under the wing of the Supreme Court before the conference was held, and we considered it would be . . . more proper to put our effort on things we could do something about."

He pointed out that the committee stated in its report that it "did not resolve satisfactorily" the desegregation issue. The report called for the problem to be worked out in each community "within the intent of the relevant Supreme Court decisions."

Is Strong Feeling

The "fence-straddling" remark came from Joseph C. McLain, principal of Mamaroneck (N.Y.) senior high school, who said there was "a strong feeling that the question should be at least considered." It was not outstanding as an issue in reports made at last winter's conference.

The committee reported that classroom construction is lagging behind foreseeable need by some 1,500 a year and that annual recruitment of new teachers is only about a third of what is needed.

It said, "It seems obvious that within the next decade the dollars spent on education in this nation should be approximately doubled."

Young Slayer Gets Suspended Sentence

EASTON, Md., April 6 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Charles Bradley Blades, convicted of manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of his father, was given a suspended sentence and put on five years probation today.

The youth testified his father, George Nelson Blades, 49, was drunk and was beating his mother at the time of the shooting March 7.

Judge J. DeWeese Carter ordered the young carpenter's apprenticeship to pay the court costs out of his own earnings.

April Showers Splatter Most Of Nation

[By The Associated Press] April showers splattered large areas in the United States Friday. Rain fell from the eastern part of the Gulf Coast northward into the Ohio Valley and also damped the Middle Atlantic States.

Rain and snow pelted the northern and central sections of the Plains. Strong winds sent dust whirling in the Southern Plains area and in part of the Central Plains. Dust in the air was reported in eastern New Mexico, Colorado and nearby parts of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas.

Hammaraskjold Leaves For Trip To Middle East

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold took off by plane tonight on his Middle East peace mission. He said he was approaching it in a hopeful spirit.

He headed for London and Rome for preliminary talks on reducing Israeli-Arab tensions. Later, he goes to Jerusalem. Hammarskjold told reporters at Idlewild Airport: "I have nothing but hope and good will toward the nations concerned and expect to receive co-operation from them."

"Something useful should be done and something useful can be done. The latest developments, if anything, add further reasons for this mission and increase the significance of this decision of the Security Council."

The reference to developments concerned renewed outbreaks of fighting along the Gaza Strip. Hammarskjold continued: "Under such circumstances, I feel that I may look with hope to the future and expect results, not even any immediate results, but results which will bring us closer to the orderly progress which we all desire for that part of the world and our harassed friends in that region."

Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, Deputy U.N. representative to the U.N., saw Hammarskjold off and told him: "We ask no miracles. We do hope most earnestly that the parties, through your good offices will agree on practical steps to relieve tension. . . . Our prayers go with you."

Earlier, at U.N. headquarters, Hammarskjold conferred with key Israeli and Arab delegates.

Probe Findings To Be Released

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The findings of a special Senate committee that investigated a $2,500 campaign contribution offer to Sen. Case (R-SD) during debate on the natural gas bill will be made public this weekend.

The committee announced today it had reached unanimous agreement on its report and said it will be released to Sunday morning newspapers.

The report, which runs about 15 pages, is described as a condensed and sharpened version of the original draft submitted to the committee by its staff last week.

The investigation centered on an attempt by an oil company lobbyist to donate $25,000 to Case's campaign fund.

Case reported the incident to the Senate during debate on the bill to exempt natural gas producers from direct federal controls, and then voted against the measure when it passed.

President Eisenhower vetoed the bill, citing "highly questionable activities" in its behalf by a small segment of the industry.

The cash donation, which Case rejected, was traced in testimony before the committee to John M. Neff of Lexington, Neb., lawyer-lobbyist for the Superior Oil Co., of Los Angeles. Howard B. Keck, president of the company, confirmed that it came from his "personal funds."

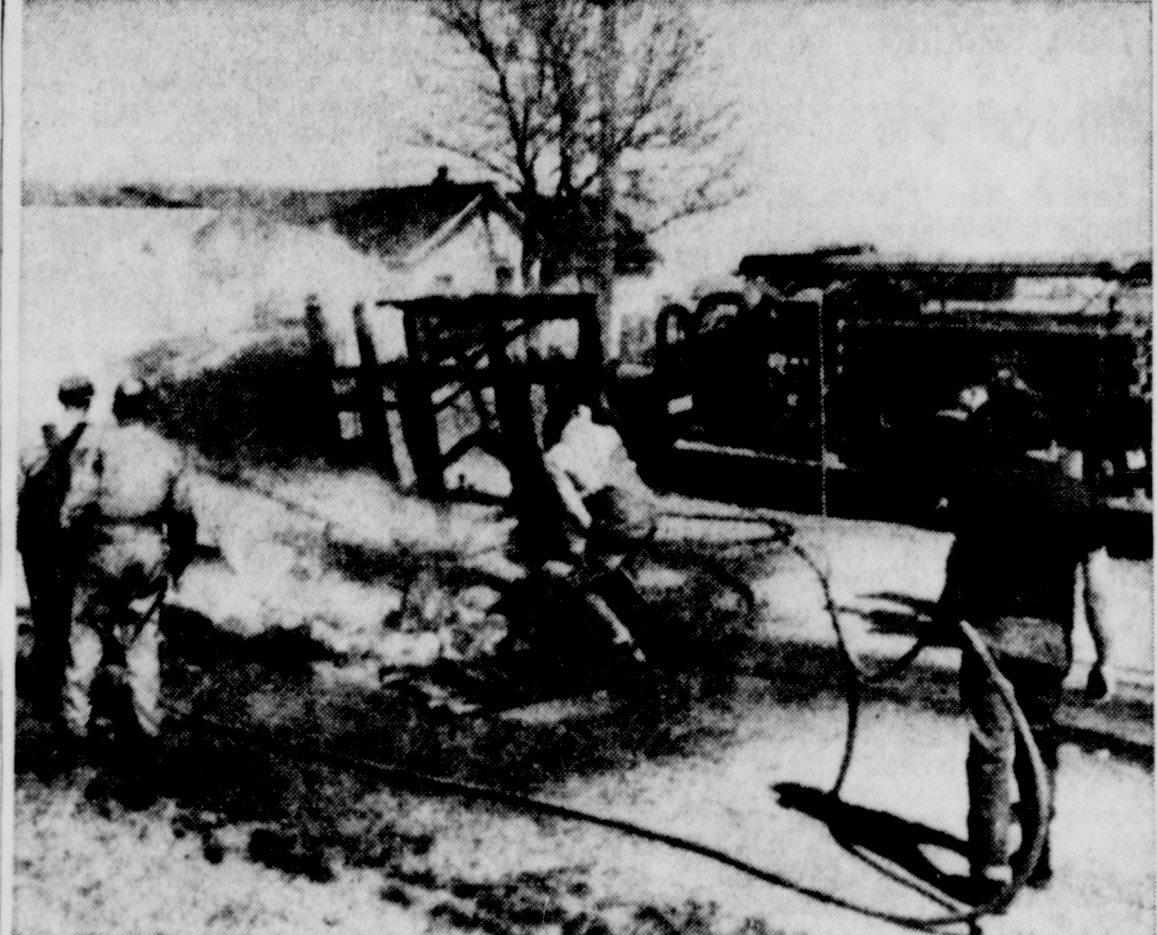

Infant Drowns In Bath Mishap

BELLEVILLE, Ill., April 6 (AP)—Mrs. Donald M. Crisel was bathing her 12-day-old son in his bathinette yesterday when another son, John 2½, choked on some food.

The mother placed the infant, Donald Jr., on a plastic apron in the bathinette and ran to the assistance of the older child.

"I was gone only a minute or two," she told police.

But when she returned, the baby had drowned. A tack holding one side of the plastic apron had pulled loose, throwing the infant into the water.

Seven Die In Truck Crash

Seven migrant workers from Texas died in the flaming wreckage of this truck at 1 p. m. yesterday on Route 51, two miles north of Bloomington, Ill. Six others of the same family were injured. The truck collided with a farm tractor and flipped on its side before bursting into flames. Tractor driver was not injured. (AP Photofax).

Kefauver Says Adlai Engages In Mud Slinging

NEWARK, N.J., April 6 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver charged today that Adlai E. Stevenson had begun engaging in mud slinging "in the manner of a man who is desperate" and that such a course will "hurt the Democratic party."

"Stevenson is not talking sense—he is simply talking nonsense," the Tennessee Democratic presidential aspirant told a news conference during his opening campaign tour for New Jersey's 36 Democratic convention votes. He called the news conference at the Paterson City Hall after reading of Stevenson's attack on him at Jacksonville, Fla.

"I didn't cry after I lost in the Democratic convention in 1952," he said, "I got out and worked to help Mr. Stevenson and the Democratic party."

"I'm sorry that Mr. Stevenson feels he now must engage in mud slinging," he said. "He's not in character in doing it."

"I intend to continue my campaign as I have in the past and I am not going to engage in personalities and mud slinging."

"We'll turn the other cheek. I think people want the issues discussed."

Stevenson, one of Kefauver's opponents for the Democratic nomination, had accused Kefauver earlier today of hurting the Democratic party with his campaign tactics.

The 1952 Democratic standard bearer said Kefauver had been absent from the Senate when several major measures were up for a vote, and that in his campaign Kefauver had hurt the party by criticizing Stevenson supporters of being aligned with political bosses.

But Kefauver denied that he had been absent "on any important votes that I remember."

Some of the bills mentioned by Stevenson, he said, came up for action many years ago, including some in 1948 when Kefauver was a member of the House of Representatives.

DAR Women Won't Use Voting Machines

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution won't use any new-fangled voting machines in electing national officers at their convention in mid-April.

Mrs. Gertrude Carraway, DAR president-general, explained today the reason is that "women change their minds even while they are casting their votes and that jams up those voting machines."

Top Diplomat To Head U.S. Observers At Meeting Of Baghdad Pact On April 16

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The United States announced today one of its top diplomats will head a delegation of U.S. observers at the April 16 meeting of the Baghdad Pact at Tehran.

He is Loy W. Henderson, deputy undersecretary and veteran Middle East expert.

Lincoln White, State Department spokesman who made the announcement, emphasized however that, "We are not prepared to adhere to it—the pact—at this time."

Henderson, as White put it, "knows the Middle East area very well." His selection was deliberately decided upon by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, it was learned, to demonstrate U.S. support of the five-nation alliance against communism, even though this country has no immediate plans for joining it.

Effort To Calm Middle East Henderson's assignment was part of a special effort to calm the highly troubled Middle East.

The 63-year-old diplomat has spent much of his 34-year career in that area of the world. He enjoys the confidence of the Arabs. His presence is expected to allay some of the bitter Arab criticism of the pact as well as ease British pressures for the United States to join it.

The pact, completed last year with U.S. backing, is designed to pull together anti-Communist countries along Russia's southern flank in the Middle East. Members are Britain, Iran, Iraq, Turkey and Pakistan.

Iraq's adherence split the Arab bloc which preaches the Arab world should stick together in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Three Masked Men Rob Labor Head Of $12,000 On Street

ST. LOUIS, April 6 (AP)—Three masked men, two of them armed, robbed a St. Louis labor official of $12,195 today in a daring street holdup.

Raymond George, financial secretary of Local 25 of the United Auto Workers, told police the men in a panel truck forced his car to the curb in North St. Louis.

Two of the men leaped out, took the money from the front seat of George's auto and then fled in their truck.

George was returning to the union office after withdrawing the money from the Mound City Trust Co. to cash payroll checks for union members who work at the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants.

One of the men was armed with a shotgun, another with a pistol. The third man remained in the truck. All had the tops of women's stockings pulled over their faces and were dressed in work clothes.

Plucky Girl, 14, Gets Medal For Saving Mother's Life

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Patricia Ann Strickland, a pretty 14-year-old brunette from Atlanta, Ga., today received from President Eisenhower the Young American Medal for bravery.

The award was made to Patricia Ann for "exceptional courage attended by extraordinary decision" in saving the life of her mother in an air crash on May 8, 1954.

The President told her "I have decorated a lot of people in my time but very few people for saving lives."

Seven Members Die In Crash Of Flaming Truck

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 6 (AP)—Seven members of a family of migratory workers perished today in the flaming wreckage of their truck.

Six others—also members of the same family—were injured.

Tragedy hit them like a bolt of lightning while they were rolling north on U.S. 51 on a warm, sunny day.

The truck brushed against a northbound farm tractor. The truck tilted over on its left side, slid along the highway for 100 feet and burst into flame.

The man on the tractor, Roy Howell, a farmer of Bloomington, was not hurt.

The dead and injured, named Mendoza, came from McAllen, Tex., and were bound for Princeton, Ill., where they were to meet an R. K. Fuller.

The dead were Fidel, 54, the father; Mary, 37, the mother; Isaac, 21, who was driving; Renli, 16, William, 13, and two toddlers, Victor and Roys.

The injured, taken to hospitals in Normal, were Renaldo, 14, Roberto, 9, Irma, 7, Eva, 5, Olga 18 and Martha 4.

New Artillery Duel Stopped By UN Appeal

Efforts Are Speeded Up For New Peace After Border Shelling

JERUSALEM, April 6 (AP)—A fresh artillery duel between Israeli and Egyptian forces on the Gaza Strip frontier heightened tension in the Middle East today while U. N. officials were speeding a new peace effort.

Today's clash was brief and apparently was halted by invoking the U. N. cease-fire appeal that finally ended yesterday's much bloodier clash. A U. N. report said 55 Egyptians and four Israelis were killed in border shelling around the town of Gaza yesterday.

Claim Soldier Killed

The Egyptians claimed one Egyptian soldier was killed in the exchange of gunfire today and 63 soldiers and civilians killed yesterday. Israel said its casualties yesterday were four soldiers and two civilians.

Egyptian spokesman accused Israel of deliberately planning the incidents. They said Israel launched "a premeditated attack on the civilian population" to coincide with departure from New York of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold with U.N. Security Council instructions to seek means of easing Israeli-Arab tension.

Israeli spokesmen claimed Egyptian troops started the shooting both yesterday and today and asserted that Egypt has three times the number of troops it is allowed in the Gaza area under armistice terms.

Although the Gaza frontier was quiet after the one-hour duel today, the situation was considered grave enough for Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N. truce supervisor, to postpone his trip to Rome to confer with Hammarskjold.

Can't Conduct Probe The Egyptian spokesman in Cairo claimed U. N. personnel in the area of the clashes were unable to conduct investigations because of "intense feeling among the Arab population."

The Egyptian statement reported both truce observers and officers of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency were confined to U. N. truce headquarters at Gaza and "the psychological condition of the inhabitants" prevented their leaving.

Yesterday's shelling from the Israeli side, the Egyptians said, was concentrated on Gaza and the towns of Khan Yunis and Dair el Ballah. One Egyptian said the Israelis knew there are no strong Egyptian military bases in this sector.

"There is almost nothing there but about 200,000 refugees," he said.

The U. N. observer report said today's firing was near the Gaza airfield.

Woman Given Prison Term

MORRIS, Ill., April 6 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Lyles Olson, 54, was sentenced today to 13 to 14 years in prison for shooting a woman she considered her rival for a widower's love.

The sentence was pronounced by Judge Robert E. Larkin in Circuit Court after hearing testimony by Mrs. Olson and her victim, Miss Elsa Kussler, 43. Mrs. Olson had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder Miss Kussler.

Miss Kussler told the court of the shooting Jan. 14 in the law office of S. J. Holderman, chairman of the Illinois State Industrial Commission. Mrs. Olson said she felt Miss Kussler had won over Holderman's affection. Holderman said he had no romantic interest in either woman. Miss Kussler was his secretary.

The victim said Mrs. Olson shot her twice in the shoulder and once in the chin, then beat her about 15 times with the pistol until she pleaded she was dying and asked to be "let alone."

Still pending is a $150,000 damage suit brought by Miss Kussler against Mrs. Olson. She said the shooting cost her the use of her right arm and left eye.

King Hussein Wins Motor Hill Climb

AMMAN, Jordan, April 6 (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan finished first today in a motor hill climb race organized by the Royal Automobile Club in Jordan. Driving a Mercedes, the King covered the two-kilometer—1.2 miles—course, which included two hairpin bends, in 1 minute, 27 seconds.

M'Keldin States Kefauver Won't Get Democratic Bid And Doesn't Obey Orders

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Maryland's Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin told fellow Republicans tonight that Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) will not be the Democratic presidential nominee because "he runs against orders."

He also told the National Republican Club of New York that Gov. Lausche of Ohio will not be the nominee because he "dared praise the work and words of Dwight D. Eisenhower."

The Maryland governor said "even if Mr. Stevenson — that repudiated jettison of the jest and joke — loses every primary in which his name is entered, he will have a better chance of winning" than Kefauver.

"If Mr. Stevenson should be discarded, the nominee may be Governor Harriman who was too well advised to risk his political hide before the American people, away from the protection of the clique."

"He may be Sen. Symington or Gov. Williams. He may even be that old, faithful fountain of fiction — Mr. Truman. In the long run of desperation, he may be someone whose voice has not yet been heard, whose name has not yet been mentioned, but whose acquiescence to clique control would be assured in advance," McKeldin said.

But whoever is the Democratic nominee, McKeldin said, "the sovereign, well informed, intelligent citizens of the United States are not going to exchange a president with the knowledge, mind, experience and love for humanity of Dwight Eisenhower for a Stevenson with a tape measure, a Harriman with a yard stick, a Truman with a tripod and chain or a Symington with a surveyor's level."

He said Democratic statements that the recent primary vote in Minnesota was against the Eisenhower program is "like saying the Yankees have taken an awful beating when the Dodgers are drubbed by the Giants."

"I am convinced that the vote was against Adlai Stevenson and the bosses — against the clique of control — not for Sen. Kefauver, particularly, or for anyone else."

"I am confident that any other well-known Democrat who would spend the time to convince the people of Minnesota that he was not kowtowing and would not kowtow to the clique could have done the same thing," the Maryland governor said.

To Tour Country

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A "Caravan of the Americas"—a travelling exposition telling of the people and products of each of the 20 Latin American nations—will tour the United States late this summer.

The 20-truck caravan, the Pan American Union said today, is being sponsored by a national committee of citizens interested in furthering Latin-American relations.

Serov Will Not Visit Britain With Soviets

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin and party Chief Khrushchev bowed today before outraged British public opinion and kicked their secret police chief, Ivan Serov, off the team that will come to Britain with them April 18.

The Russians, obviously straining hard to win friends among the British, abruptly dropped Gen. Serov after insisting he would be coming along.

Khrushchev then added a homely touch to the 10-day "goodwill tour" by telling the British he would bring along his son, S. N. Khrushchev, an engineering student. It was news to the British that the Red boss had a son.

British newspapers blossomed out with banner headlines announcing that Serov would stay home. Their stories appeared after the British Foreign Office published the list of people on the Soviet delegation.

The newspapers had denounced Serov as a "revolting butcher" and an "odious thug" when he flew here last month to set up security arrangements for the Bulganin-Khrushchev tour.

Editorials asserted it was an insult to Britain that Serov—the man they accused of purging and deporting hundreds of thousands in Eastern Europe—should be allowed on British soil.

The official list of the 44-man Russian delegation shows that Serov's place as head of the bodyguard for the Soviet leaders has been taken by a man believed to be his deputy, Maj. Gen. N. S. Zakharov. Khrushchev and Bulganin will have separate personal bodyguards—a total of 14 gun-toting Russians plus what the British police will provide.

Georgi Malenkov, the former Soviet premier who has been on a three-week handshaking tour of Britain, indicated only last night at a news conference that the Kremlin's intention was to bring Serov on the tour.

At Last Meeting

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior McKay, resigning April 15 to run for the Senate, attended his last Cabinet meeting today and bade President Eisenhower goodby.

strict neutrality between the Soviet bloc and the free world.

In two other areas, U.S. movement was apparent. Heavy emphasis was placed on the United Nations as the responsible agent of peace in the region made even more tense by new Arab-Israeli bloodshed. Also, U.S. approval was in the offing for a new Arab plan on the key issue of Jordan River development.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred on the Middle East crisis for a half hour at the White House today. Clashes between Arabs and Israelis on the Gaza strip frontier yesterday and today were discussed, the White House said.

Pressed By Britain, France

Pressed by Britain and France to take some action, pressured by Israel for a decision on its request for 63 million dollars worth of arms, and fearful that the Arab-Israeli dispute might explode this summer, U.S. officials lined up this special program for April:

1. Emphasis on U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's peace mission to the Middle East. With Hammarskjöld on the scene, officials feel the Arabs and Israelis will be more careful in trying to avoid further border incidents.

2. More attention to the Baghdad Pact, dramatized by the assignment of Henderson as official observer. In his Foreign Service career of 34 years, he held posts in Iraq, India and Iran.

3. Efforts to get the Jordan River program started, even if not along the joint lines envisioned by Eric Johnston, President Eisenhower's special adviser in the matter.

Compromise

told his news conference last Wednesday that he would not insist on perfection.

Cooley said the average payments per acre under the acreage reserve part of the soil bank, for which 750 million dollars has been authorized for this and the next three years, would be within these ranges:

Tobacco $100 to $300 an acre; rice, $60 to $75; peanuts $50 to $70; cotton $48 to $60; corn $36 to $50, and wheat $18 to $25.

The number of U. S. telephone operators has increased by 159,000 or 79 per cent from 1940 to 1950.

Grace Kelly Already Plans To Redecorate Palace

her fiancé's palace in Monaco she amused herself in dreaming of how she would redecorate the ancient 120-room building.

Wicomico Seeks School Budget Hike

SALISBURY, Md., April 6 (AP)—School Superintendent James M. Bennett has said an increase of $151,000 is being sought in the Wicomico County 1956-1957 school budget.

The additional money would be used to finance teacher pay boosts, additions to the teaching staff and other costs incident to an increased enrollment and the operation of new schools.

The budget, including the increase, is a proposed $1,689,212. Bennett said the budget would provide for a $100 annual increase for teachers. The school budget, including funds from State and other sources plus the County outlay would approximate $3,000,000, according to Bennett.

Grace discussed such plans amiably and with less restraint than usual when she entertained the reporters and photographers at a pre-lunch cocktail party.

She seemed more rested. She wore a periwinkle blue spectator sports dress of raw silk, and black patent leather shoes. She sported not only her 12-carat diamond solitaire engagement ring but also the band of entwined rubies and diamonds Rainier gave her when he proposed.

Sipping a glass of tomato juice spiked with vodka, Grace told the reporters how in the excitement of her departure from New York she forgot the keys of her most important trunk. It had to be pried open.

Answering questions readily, she said her married name will be Princess Grace de Monaco—not Grace Grimaldi. Grimaldi is Rainier's family name. Her monogram will be two G's, one reversed as if seen in a mirror.

Grace pronounced the name of her country-to-be without accenting any one syllable: Mo-na-co.

She said she loves French furniture; she hasn't been seasick despite the rough weather the Constitution encountered today.

Asked to describe her feelings on the approaching nuptials, Grace replied, "I'm never any good at describing my feelings. If I could, I'd be a writer, I guess."

It is unnecessary for her to brush up on French for the marriage ceremony responses, she said. "All I have to say is 'Oui.'"

Driver Found Dead At Wheel Of Truck

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 6 (AP)—A truck slowed to a stop today on the Susquehanna River Bridge and came to rest against the curb of the southbound lane, its front end headed north.

When bridge employee William Gathagan investigated, he found the driver, 50-year-old Robert Porter, of Aberdeen, dead in the cab. Dr. R. C. Dodson, Cecil County medical examiner, said a heart attack caused Porter's death.

Porter was driving a truck owned by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He had been an employee of the company for more than 20 years.

But whoever is the Democratic nominee, McKeldin said, "the sovereign, well informed, intelligent citizens of the United States are not going to exchange a president with the knowledge, mind, experience and love for humanity of Dwight Eisenhower for a Stevenson with a tape measure, a Harriman with a yard stick, a Truman with a tripod and chain or a Symington with a surveyor's level."

He said Democratic statements that the recent primary vote in Minnesota was against the Eisenhower program is "like saying the Yankees have taken an awful beating when the Dodgers are drubbed by the Giants."

"I am convinced that the vote was against Adlai Stevenson and the bosses — against the clique of control — not for Sen. Kefauver, particularly, or for anyone else."

"I am confident that any other well-known Democrat who would spend the time to convince the people of Minnesota that he was not kowtowing and would not kowtow to the clique could have done the same thing," the Maryland governor said.

To Tour Country

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A "Caravan of the Americas"—a travelling exposition telling of the people and products of each of the 20 Latin American nations—will tour the United States late this summer.

The 20-truck caravan, the Pan American Union said today, is being sponsored by a national committee of citizens interested in furthering Latin-American relations.

Serov Will Not Visit Britain With Soviets

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin and party Chief Khrushchev bowed today before outraged British public opinion and kicked their secret police chief, Ivan Serov, off the team that will come to Britain with them April 13.

The Russians, obviously straining hard to win friends among the British, abruptly dropped Gen. Serov after insisting he would be coming along.

Khrushchev then added a homely touch to the 10-day "goodwill tour" by telling the British he would bring along his son, S. N. Khrushchev, an engineering student. It was news to the British that the Red boss had a son.

British newspapers blossomed out with banner headlines announcing that Serov would stay home. Their stories appeared after the British Foreign Office published the list of people on the Soviet delegation.

The newspapers had denounced Serov as a "revolting butcher" and an "odious thug" when he flew here last month to set up security arrangements for the Bulganin-Khrushchev tour.

Editorials asserted it was an insult to Britain that Serov—the man they accused of purging and deporting hundreds of thousands in Eastern Europe—should be allowed on British soil.

The official list of the 44-man Russian delegation shows that Serov's place as head of the bodyguard for the Soviet leaders has been taken by a man believed to be his deputy, Maj. Gen. N. S. Zakharov. Khrushchev and Bulganin will have separate personal bodyguards—a total of 14 gun-toting Russians plus what the British police will provide.

Georgi Malenkov, the former Soviet premier who has been on a three-week handshaking tour of Britain, indicated only last night at a news conference that the Kremlin's intention was to bring Serov on the tour.

At Last Meeting

strict neutrality between the Soviet bloc and the free world.

In two other areas, U.S. movement was apparent. Heavy emphasis was placed on the United Nations as the responsible agent of peace in the region made even more tense by new Arab-Israeli bloodshed. Also, U.S. approval was in the offing for a new Arab plan on the key issue of Jordan River development.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred on the Middle East crisis for a half hour at the White House today. Clashes between Arabs and Israelis on the Gaza strip frontier yesterday and today were discussed, the White House said.

Pressed By Britain, France

Pressed by Britain and France to take some action, pressured by Israel for a decision on its request for 63 million dollars worth of arms, and fearful that the Arab-Israeli dispute might explode this summer, U.S. officials lined up this special program for April:

1. Emphasis on U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's peace mission to the Middle East. With Hammarskjöld on the scene, officials feel the Arabs and Israelis will be more careful in trying to avoid further border incidents.

2. More attention to the Baghdad Pact, dramatized by the assignment of Henderson as official observer. In his Foreign Service career of 34 years, he held posts in Iraq, India and Iran.

3. Efforts to get the Jordan River program started, even if not along the joint lines envisioned by Eric Johnston, President Eisenhower's special adviser in the matter.

told his news conference last Wednesday that he would not insist on perfection.

Cooley said the average payments per acre under the acreage reserve part of the soil bank, for which 750 million dollars has been authorized for this and the next three years, would be within these ranges:

Tobacco $100 to $300 an acre; rice, $60 to $75; peanuts $50 to $70; cotton $48 to $60; corn $36 to $50; and wheat $18 to $25.

The number of U. S. telephone operators has increased by 159,000 or 79 per cent from 1940 to 1950.

Grace Kelly Already Plans To Redecorate Palace

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
ABOARD SS CONSTITUTION,
April 6 (AP)—Grace Kelly confessed today that the first time she saw her fiancé's palace in Monaco she amused herself in dreaming of how she would redecorate the ancient 120-room building.

Wicomico Seeks School Budget Hike

SALISBURY, Md., April 6 (AP)—School Superintendent James M. Bennett has said an increase of $151,000 is being sought in the Wicomico County 1956-1957 school budget.

The additional money would be used to finance teacher pay boosts, additions to the teaching staff and other costs incident to an increased enrollment and the operation of new schools.

The budget, including the increase, is a proposed $1,689,212. Bennett said the budget would provide for a $100 annual increase for teachers. The school budget, including funds from State and other sources plus the County outlay would approximate $3,000,000, according to Bennett.

Grace discussed such plans amiably and with less restraint than usual when she entertained the reporters and photographers at a prelude cocktail party.

She seemed more rested. She wore a periwinkle blue spectator sports dress of raw silk, and black patent leather shoes. She sported not only her 12-carat diamond solitaire engagement ring but also the band of entwined rubies and diamonds Rainier gave her when he proposed.

Sipping a glass of tomato juice spiked with vodka, Grace told the reporters how in the excitement of her departure from New York she forgot the keys of her most important trunk. It had to be pried open.

Answering questions readily, she said her married name will be Princess Grace de Monaco—not Grace Grimaldi. Grimaldi is Rainier's family name. Her monogram will be two G's, one reversed as if seen in a mirror.

Grace pronounces the name of her country-to-be without accenting any one syllable: Mo-na-co.

She said she loves French furniture; she hasn't been seasick despite the rough weather the Constitution encountered today; at the religious marriage ceremony she will carry a prayerbook covered with lilies of the valley, instead of ushers at the wedding there will be five witnesses, one of them her brother, John B. Kelly Jr. The Count de Polignac, Rainier's uncle, will be best man.

Asked to describe her feelings on the approaching nuptials, Grace replied, "I'm never any good at describing my feelings. If I could, I'd be a writer, I guess."

It is unnecessary for her to brush up on French for the marriage ceremony responses, she said. "All I have to say is 'Oui.'"

Driver Found Dead At Wheel Of Truck

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 6 (AP)—A truck slowed to a stop today on the Susquehanna River Bridge and came to rest against the curb of the southbound lane, its front end headed north.

When bridge employee William Gathagan investigated, he found the driver, 50-year-old Robert Porter, of Aberdeen, dead in the cab. Dr. R. C. Dodson, Cecil County medical examiner, said a heart attack caused Porter's death.

Porter was driving a truck owned by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He had been an employee of the company for more than 20 years.

Japan Envoy Makes Call On President

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Japanese Ambassador Masayuki Tani called on President Eisenhower today.

It was the first White House call by a new envoy since the President's illness last fall. After Eisenhower's heart attack, arrangements were made for new envoys to present their credentials through the State Department.

GOING HOME

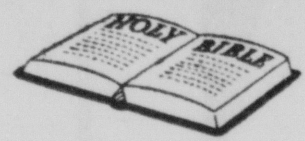

You've heard of heredity and environment. You know that the latter usually exercises the stronger influence upon the development of a child.

Then you are face to face with the dilemma of the Church.

The Church can give to every child who comes within its influence the heritage of the Christian faith. It can teach him the truth about God; it can show him the Christian way of life.

But what happens when a child goes home? Will the lesson "stay learned?" Or will it be destroyed by language, attitude and example contrary to all the Church has taught?

It isn't enough to send your child to church school. Become a church-going family! Let Christian truth mold the life of your home and it will mold the life of your child.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GOING HOME

You've heard of heredity and environment. You know that the latter usually exercises the stronger influence upon the development of a child.

Then you are face to face with the dilemma of the Church.

The Church can give to every child who comes within its influence the heritage of the Christian faith. It can teach him the truth about God; it can show him the Christian way of life.

But what happens when a child goes home? Will the lesson "stay learned?" Or will it be destroyed by language, attitude and example contrary to all the Church has taught?

It isn't enough to send your child to church school. Become a church-going family! Let Christian truth mold the life of your home and it will mold the life of your child.

The educational program concerned the three county institutions. James Orr showed color pictures taken during the monthly inspections by the county commissioners.

Earl Grim, superintendent of the County Home and Infirmary, gave a brief history of the home saying that the first, called the "almshouse" was built in 1832 along the C & O canal on Oldtown Road. The present building is 106 years old and was remodelled in 1940 for an infirmary to take care of 30 patients with the upstairs section used for ambulatory patients. The present infirmary was built in 1949 and could take care of 39 patients from the other two institutions. Today it is licensed for 95 and has 94 patients; 64 women and 30 men. The County Home can house 48 and now has 38 patients; 18 women and 30 men with the latter on the first floor and the former occupying the second. The infirmary employs 72, five of these are graduate nurses with four on regular duty and one working relief.

Admission is made by application filled out by the person wishing admission or by a responsible person if the patient is unable to do so. The patient's personal physician then gives the diagnosis, and sends the application to the Welfare Board for investigation, after which the County Commissioners check the ability to pay with no minimum and no maximum amounts. At present patients are paying from nothing to $25 a month to $125 with no partiality shown. Last year between $28,000 and $29,000 was paid by infirmary patients. Mr. Orr said there are about 50 on the waiting list. At the County Home there is no charge of any kind and only donations are accepted. There 14 persons are employed.

Raymond Messmer, superintendent of Sylvan Retreat, explained he is in charge of the institution and farm and that he had found an old license under the wallpaper dated April 4, 1889 for 100 beds but that at that time the basement and third floor were used. They are now licensed for 90 beds and there are 92 patients in residence; 57 women and 35 men. The county physician spends more than four hours each day with the residents who pay $50 per month if they can.

KITCHEN TIPS

If you pack lunch boxes for your children or husband, here are some suggestions that may prove helpful:

1. Put wooden tooth picks into the top of cakes or pies before wrapping them. This will keep waxed paper from sticking to icing or meringue.
2. When packing thermos bottle filled with hot liquids, pre-heat it first with hot water. Pre-cool it before filling with chilled liquids.
3. To give extra flavor to sandwich fillings, cream butter for spreading and add horse radish, minced onion, grated cheese, catsup or chopped parsley.

Cupcakes baked in paper muffin cups stay fresh longer than if they are baked in muffin tins.

Lighting in your home should add decorative touches as well as protect eyesight. Our Home Service Advisors will be glad to give you free assistance in planning and arranging your home lights—both indoors and out. For this free service, just call our local office.

Don't throw away leftover mashed white or sweet potatoes, wrap them in waxed paper, chill or freeze and fry as needed.

Automatic washers may be used to dye fabrics, bath mats and so forth. Our local Home Service Advisor will be glad to advise you about this unique use of a common household appliance.

To re-heat scalloped dishes, add a small amount of water, milk or gravy, toss lightly to re-moisten and place in 350° oven until heated.

A duet by Charlyn Hyde and Patty Higgs, "His Resurrection Morn." The chorus sang, "The Garden Message," "Hallelujah, Sing His Praise," "Swing, Lily, Swing," "Risen with Him," "Triumphant."

The educational program concerned the three county institutions. James Orr showed color pictures taken during the monthly inspections by the county commissioners.

Earl Grim, superintendent of the County Home and Infirmary, gave a brief history of the home saying that the first, called the "almshouse" was built in 1832 along the C & O canal on Oldtown Road. The present building is 106 years old and was remodelled in 1940 for an infirmary to take care of 30 patients with the upstairs section used for ambulatory patients. The present infirmary was built in 1949 and could take care of 29 patients from the other two institutions. Today it is licensed for 95 and has 94 patients; 64 women and 30 men. The County Home can house 48 and now has 38 patients; 18 women and 30 men with the latter on the first floor and the former occupying the second. The infirmary employs 72, five of these are graduate nurses with four on regular duty and one working relief.

Admission is made by application filled out by the person wishing admission or by a responsible person if the patient is unable to do so. The patient's personal physician then gives the diagnosis, and sends the application to the Welfare Board for investigation, after which the County Commissioners check the ability to pay with no minimum and no maximum amounts. At present patients are paying from nothing to $25 a month to $125 with no partiality shown. Last year between $28,000 and $29,000 was paid by infirmary patients. Mr. Orr said there are about 50 on the waiting list. At the County Home there is no charge of any kind and only donations are accepted. There 14 persons are employed.

Raymond Messmer, superintendent of Sylvan Retreat, explained he is in charge of the institution and farm and that he had found an old license under the wall paper dated April 4, 1889 for 100 beds but that at that time the basement and third floor were used. They are now licensed for 90 beds and there are 92 patients in residence; 57 women and 35 men. The county physician spends more than four hours each day with the residents who pay $50 per month if they can.

Constance Kienzle Is Bride Of Herbert G. Kurtz

The marriage of Miss Constance Marie Kienzle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Kienzle, Hillcrest, Tyrone, Pa., to Herbert Glenn Kurtz, Cumberland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kurtz, Connellsville, Pa., was solemnized April 3. Rev. John T. T. Cummings officiated at the double ring ceremony in First Methodist Church at 1:30. Baskets of pink and white snapdragons and candelabra decorated the altar.

Mrs. James F. Staley, Tyrone, was her sister's matron of honor; and Terry Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Black, Tyrone, was flower girl. Isaac Childress, Connellsville, served as Mr. Kurtz's best man while Harry Mullin, Patrick King, Connellsville, and Paul M. Kienzle, Jr., were the ushers.

A program of nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Louise Walte. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white silk crystalline shantung, fashioned on princess lines with a bolero of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a lace covered monk's cap. Completing her costume she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and ivy.

Her matron of honor's gown was of pale blue nylon shantung made on princess lines with blue lace and rhinestone trim. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and azaleas. The flower girl wore a dress of white nylon illusion and lace in bouffant style and ribbon trim. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Tyrone High School, of Indiana, Pa., State Teachers College, and of Columbia University, New York. She received her master's degree in art education at Pennsylvania State University in August 1955. She was supervisor of art in the Connellsville High School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Pennsylvania State University and

GOP Women Plan Meeting Hear About Co. Institutions

Plans for the spring dinner meeting May 10 were announced and attendance at the Sixth Congressional District conference was discussed at the meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Cumberland, Thursday evening. It was held at the Ali Ghan City Club with Mrs. James Orr presiding. Mrs. Earl Conn, cochairman with Mrs. Joseph Boden, distributed tickets for the dinner. All wishing to attend the conference May 28 in Frederick are to contact Mrs. Harry S. Anderson promptly. It was explained five Congressional district conferences will be held this year instead of the usual spring and summer rallies. Members may attend as many as they wish.

It was voted to send Mrs. Orr to the National Federation convention in Chicago September 5-7 as a delegate. Mrs. L. E. Daugherty was named alternate. The meeting was opened with an Easter prayer by Mrs. George Winters, followed by the pledge to the flag and singing of "America, The Beautiful." TIPS

If you pack lunch boxes for your children or husband, here are some suggestions that may prove helpful:

1. Put wooden tooth picks into the top of cakes or pies before wrapping them. This will keep waxed paper from sticking to icing or meringue.
2. When packing thermos bottle filled with hot liquids, pre-heat it first with hot water. Pre-cool it before filling with chilled liquids.
3. To give extra flavor to sandwich fillings, cream butter for spreading and add horse radish, minced onion, grated cheese, catsup or chopped parsley.

Cupcakes baked in paper muffin cups stay fresh longer than if they are baked in muffin tins.

Lighting in your home should add decorative touches as well as protect eyesight. Our Home Service Advisors will be glad to give you free assistance in planning and arranging your home lights—both indoors and out. For this free service, just call our local office.

Don't throw away leftover mashed white or sweet potatoes, wrap them in waxed paper, chill or freeze and fry as needed.

Automatic washers may be used to dye fabrics, bath mats and so forth. Our local Home Service Advisor will be glad to advise you about this unique use of a common household appliance.

To re-heat scalloped dishes, add a small amount of water, milk or gravy, toss lightly to re-moisten and place in 350° oven until heated.

Kelly Replies With Statement

Emphasizing his belief that former Sen. Millard E. Tydings is the ideal candidate to replace Sen. John Marshall Butler who was the beneficiary of "the underhanded campaign" that falsely linked Tydings with Communist Earl Browder in 1950 William P. Kelly, Lonaconing, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, took cognizance yesterday of a statement by Chairman Thomas B. Finan following Kelly's declaration Tuesday in favor of Tydings for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

"In matters of policy and principle, there is no place for personal bickering and before commenting on Chairman Finan's statement I want to reiterate my high regard for him and the other members of our Central Committee," Kelly stated.

"I want to repeat, however," he declared, "that I do not think the thousands of intelligent Democrats in Allegany County are such lost sheep as to wait with bated breath for voting instructions from the Democratic State Central Committee, of which I am a member, along with five other party representatives."

"As a member of our party's central committee I conceive it to be our duty to carry on a general election campaign designed to elect the Democrat who wins the party nomination. I do not think it is a function of this committee to tell Democrats which of their party's candidates to support in primary contests.

"Personally I am convinced that the general election with our united support behind our Democratic nominee whoever he may be.

"One inference in Chairman Finan's statement I can not let pass without hearty dissent. He says:

"Mr. Kelly was appointed to fill the unexpired term left vacant by the death of John M. Cain of Frostburg, and he was appointed to fill this vacancy by the other five members of the State Central Committee whose endorsement (of Mahoney) he now publicly repudiates."

"In the first place I held John Cain in the highest esteem and pay tribute to his ideals. But I reject the inference that because I was selected by the other five I am supposed to be a rubber stamp. I don't think the party rank and file want their central committeemen to give up their individual convictions on party policy, and I submit to Democratic voters these two positions I have taken:

"1. That the State Central Committee has no business picking the Democratic candidates, a matter that the voters themselves are capable of deciding; and,

"2. That my personal choice, for numerous logical reasons, is former Senator Tydings for whom thousands of Republicans are hoping the Democrats will give them a chance to vote in November."

former Senator Millard E. Tydings, who was recognized during his long service in the U. S. Senate as one of the outstanding members of that august body, is the best fitted of all the candidates (Democrat or Republican) to represent Maryland in the upper house of Congress.

"Not only that, but I think it is due Millard Tydings for the Democrats to nominate him next month so that Marylanders of all parties may have the opportunity in the general election to right the wrong that was perpetrated by underhanded methods in 1950, and of which John Marshall Butler was the beneficiary.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceeding small, and I feel sure that the vast majority of Democrats and many, many Republicans hope to see Tydings versus Butler in the general election—and with Tydings vindicated in person, not by proxy.

"However, I speak as a member of the Democratic party and not as a state central committeeman, and I am certain no one is going to be overruled by any pre-primary pronouncements of any committee group. I urge that our energies be conserved to defeat Sen. Butler in

"Atomic Plenty" And Arms Alone

Though it was given a play in the headlines, there was nothing new about Defense Secretary Wilson's warning that atomic stockpiles are now approaching a point where either the United States or Russia could practically wipe out the world.

When he said this to a House Military Affairs subcommittee he wasn't telling the congressmen something they didn't know.

Ever since the effects of fall-out from a hydrogen bomb have been revealed, Americans have been aware that it would not take many of these explosions to lay waste even a country as large as this one. In fact, it was because statesmen realized that a nuclear war would amount to mutual destruction that the summit conference took place at Geneva last year.

It is obvious that if the great powers became embroiled in such a struggle the effects would be global in extent as well as cataclysmic.

Yet it is good to have this warning from Mr. Wilson, who is a practical man if there ever was one, and his further observations on what "atomic plenty" means. The Defense Secretary said that while he thinks the present arms budget is "about the best answer" the nation now has to the problem of national security, arms alone "won't quite do the job, and we are going to have to work out something else to finally handle it down the road."

What that something else will be cannot be clearly seen at this moment. In any case, Secretary Wilson sees that there is no real safety in possession of a huge stock of nuclear weapons when Russia possesses a stock equally capable of wrecking this planet.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Another Canadian Error

The Canadian finance minister, Walter Harris, proposes to tax advertising in Canadian editions of American magazines with the object of protecting the circulation of Canadian-owned magazines which apparently cannot take the competition. If this goes through, Congress will probably retaliate by putting an equalizing and reciprocal tax on Canadian whiskey, cheese, oats and other products that come into this country.

Canadian newspapers say that Mr. Harris' tax is a particularly stupid one. The Toronto "Telegram" puts it succinctly:

"The tax is unnecessary, discriminatory and vicious. It is designed only to make it difficult for the United States publications to produce Canadian editions, and not to raise revenue for the government. . ."

The "Globe and Mail" of Toronto made the point: "How can Mr. Harris justify such a tax? Some of these advertisements are American ones, placed in the American edition of the magazine concerned and carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. Some are Canadian ones (for example, tourist advertising) placed in the American edition and directed to its American readers; but, again, carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. And some are specifically Canadian, placed only in the so-called Canadian edition, and directed only to Canadian readers."

"If Mr. Harris is going to tax these magazines for any genuine purpose, he cannot tax the first two types of advertising; he can address himself only to the third. But he said in his budget speech that the 20 per cent would be levied on 'all' revenues they received from advertising, and told reporters afterward that 'all' was exactly what he meant. . ."

What Mr. Harris seems to propose is that all American magazines be forced to withdraw from Canada, not permitting even a single copy to be mailed to that country, lest it be called a Canadian edition and taxed. This is vicious anti-Americanism which can only result in vicious anti-Canadianism.

Apparently the magazine aimed at is the Reader's Digest which employs 322 Canadians and has a Canadian payroll of more than $1,250,000 and is the only true national magazine in Canada, as it publishes in both French and English which are the two national languages of Canada. Time spends about $4,000,000 in Canada. It would not break either of these publications if an unjust tax forced them to withdraw from Canada altogether. Nor would such a withdrawal affect the American economy one way or the other.

What is unfortunate is that many Americans are beginning to feel that our old-time good neighbor with whom we have had so few quarrels and none of them serious or important since we both became nations, is no longer such a good neighbor. Too many incidents are occurring which give the impression that official Canadians believe that the United States is a lemon to be squeezed to the last drop. That is clearly apparent in the Canadian cartelized handling of newsprint which is having such a deleterious effect upon the American newspaper industry. It is in this commodity that Canadian policy really hurts and is producing in this country a bad opinion of Canada.

It would be most unfortunate for both countries, but more so for Canada, if Congress were required by any large section of the American electorate to decide on a policy of economic retaliation. Nobody wants that. Nobody desires any quarrel or misunderstanding with Canada, but it could happen.

For instance, it is very difficult to understand why Lester Pearson, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, pushes so hard for the recognition of Red China. Canada has never had any important interests in China nor has Canada's trade with China ever amounted to much. What is the Canadian interest in this? Why does Lester Pearson embarrass the United States by promoting the cause of Red China? Surely, it cannot be for ideological reasons. What then is the explanation?

It is reported that in the recent conversations among President Eisenhower, the Canadians and Mexicans, Lester Pearson again raised the question of Red China and that he was told off, because the United States is not ready to recognize Red China, not even in 1957 as some plan for us to do. Nor do the American people believe that a nation should shoot its way into the United Nations, particularly by shooting Americans as the Chinese Communists did in Korea.

Big Day For The Bird Watchers

Primaries Give No Real Clue To November Election

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Republicans came out in bigger numbers to vote in Wisconsin than they did in the Minnesota primary while the Democrats did not do as well in Wisconsin as in the Minnesota primary this year.

Although in Minnesota only about 25 per cent of the Republicans who had voted in the 1952 final election went to the polls this year, the Wisconsin presidential primary brought out 52 per cent of the Republicans who voted in the 1952 election. The Democrats, on the other hand, polled in the Minnesota primary 70 per cent of their 1952 election vote but in Wisconsin the Democrats' proportion of their 1952 vote dropped to 46 per cent.

GOP Proportion Bigger

It could be argued that this fall-off in the Democratic vote was due to an absence of any contest in Wisconsin. But there was no contest on the Republican side either. In fact, Wisconsin was supposed to be one of those states where the farm revolt would bring a serious defection in the Republican party. Percentage-wise, nevertheless, the Republicans brought out a slightly bigger proportion of their own vote than the Democrats did.

It is important in comparing the figures of this year's primary elections and the primaries of four years ago to recall that the Republicans staged quite a contest in the 1952 primaries with Taft, Warren and Stassen dividing the vote. So the total Republican vote in the 1952 primary of 776,600 must be compared with the 425,000 cast this year for President Eisenhower and 18,000 for Chapple, or a total of 443,000—virtually no contest.

The Democrats, on the other hand, four years ago, didn't have much of a contest and Senator Kefauver made only a few trips to the state. The total Democratic vote in the 1952 primary was 241,525 as compared with approximately 325,000 this year. It was a gain of about 84,000 votes this time, but when it was noted that Stevenson polled 622,175 in the 1952 election, it will be apparent that the votes in the Democratic primary this week falls far short of the total of four years ago.

Ike's Popularity Significant

The primary campaigns evidently do not arouse the voters as a whole. Most people who are eligible to vote stay away from those who do go to the polls.

Plainly, the most significant thing about the primary votes in Minnesota and Wisconsin is the popularity of President Eisenhower with a large segment of his own party, but the results are not conclusive as to whether these states can be carried by the Republicans next November.

There is no doubt that a farm revolt is on in the Middle West. There is no doubt also that grievances usually accumulate against the party in power. The Republicans are facing a real battle this time and will need to get out their vote. On the surface, it may appear that

New Treatments Reported For Tired Muscles

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

New tests and treatments have been reported for myasthenia gravis, the nervous disorder in which the muscles tire easily. News of this nature is welcome because we would like to scratch another disease off our list of perennial troublemakers.

In this strange ailment, there is rapid exhaustion of the muscles of eyelids, extremities, voice box, breathing, and swallowing. On awakening in the morning, for example, the majority of victims are able to keep their eyelids open but after an hour or two they drop until the openings resemble slits. The lids cannot be lifted until the muscles are rested thoroughly.

Swallowing, talking, and chewing are laborious when the mouth and throat are attacked. Involvement of legs and arms slows down movement, so that walking or using the hands is a struggle. Obviously, interference with the breathing mechanism is serious.

Symptoms vary from one patient to the next. In some, only one group of muscles is involved. Others can exert themselves for longer periods before fatigue sets in. Total invalidism is the lot of a few because they cannot perform even the simplest movements such as sitting up or raising the head.

For more than 20 years neostig-

mine has been the standard treatment. The preparation is taken at regular intervals throughout the day, is not habit forming, and does not lose its efficacy even though administered year after year. In fact, neostigmine has done such a good job it is used as the yardstick for comparing the value of any new product introduced.

Mestinon bromide was a near rival until the advent of WIN 8077, which is said to be twice as effective as neostigmine, milligram for milligram, in reducing symptoms. Furthermore, the effect lasts twice as long as the compound is less likely to produce gastrointestinal disturbances. A Boston report says it was successful in 40 of 60 patients.

The relationship between the thymus and MG is an old story. Dramatic improvement occurred in some cases following removal of this gland, particularly in women under 50. The value of thymectomy in men is questionable. Thymus extracts act favorably in laboratory tests but are so difficult to obtain they never have been used in treatments.

POUNDAGE FROM FLUID

R. L. writes: I have put on 10 pounds recently though I eat lightly. I went to a doctor and much to my surprise, he said the excess weight is due to not eating enough. Can you explain?

REPLY
Nutritional edema stems from a deficiency of protein foods. The condition is unusual in the United States because most of us, at our worst, are a step ahead of prisoners of war and Russians banished to Siberia. The added weight represents fluid in the tissues and I

Eisenhower And Sam Rayburn Rule Against All Congressional Junkets

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It won't be announced publicly, but President Eisenhower has ordered all Army, Navy, Air Force junkets for congressmen canceled until Congress adjourns.

Reason was a vigorous squawk from Speaker Sam Rayburn who found so many of his top committee chairmen out of town shortly before the Easter holiday that he couldn't get any work done. They had disappeared—courtesy of the Navy—on a Navy junket to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The Navy flew them on Navy planes to Cuba, then took them for a cruise on the supercarrier Forrestal.

Rayburn was so furious he telephoned Jim Hagerly at the White House and asked him to have the President warn the Army, Navy and Air Force against taking congressmen away from their work on junkets.

Eisenhower immediately cooperated. Result: The Air Force had to cancel invitations to congressmen to fly to California for the unveiling of the supersonic jet fighter F-104.

NOTE — It's suspected that the brass hats had purposely staged the junket to Cuba in order to get congressmen out of town just as the House of Representatives was scheduled to vote on two generals Gen. Joseph Swing wanted taken into the Immigration Service. A good many congressmen have objected to too much militarization of civilian agencies. General Swing won out in the end.

Nixon's Uncle

Vice President Nixon has gone out of his way to ask for the transcript of a court hearing involving his uncle, H. H. Nixon.

The transcript is rather long, but the vice president asked for the full text for his own personal scrutiny. Ordinarily what Nixon's Uncle does in California should be of no interest to the rest of the country. But inasmuch as the vice president was a pioneer in establishing guilt by association, it is understandable why he was worried about his uncle. He may be accused of guilt by relation.

When you read the court record, it's easy to understand why the vice president is concerned. For his Uncle Hugh was castigated by Superior Judge Roger A. Pfaff for cheating the government on taxes. "I'm going to steal this from Uncle Sam, and I'm not going to pay taxes on $10,000," Judge Pfaff summarized Uncle Hugh's strategy. "I am trying to cheat the government out of $10,000." That," concluded the judge, "leaves me just as cold as a mackerel."

What happened was that Uncle Hugh Nixon's son had an incurable disease. In order to avoid state inheritance tax and federal estate taxes, the vice president's uncle devised a scheme of selling property belonging to his son, with part of the proceeds to be paid in cash. The cash in turn was to be distributed to various relatives and friends of the son and thus not become part of the son's estate.

Nine Different Checks

The boy executed a power of attorney transferring the property to Uncle Hugh. After that, Uncle Hugh arranged with Phil Hansen to buy the property with a down payment of $10,000. This $10,000, upon Nixon's request, was issued in nine checks, the largest of which was for $2,000. No payee was named on these checks. They were deposited in various banks, some of them without any endorsement whatsoever. Some were even backdated so as to appear they were written a month prior to the actual transaction.

Later, Hansen and Uncle Nixon got into an argument, with the result that suit was brought in the Superior Court of Los Angeles

Hidden Treasure

By Brother Barnabas

Folk tales are common to all nations. They are little novels suited to the intelligence of children, but having a hidden meaning for all ages.

A mythical story comes from Eire which we appropriate for this space because it gives a peg on which to hang a few ideas about a subject of popular interest, how to get rich. Erin go brach! Leprechaun is a knee-high, wrinkle-faced old sprite, usually pictured as making shoes, grinding meal and otherwise helping those who were kind to him.

He is thought to own great treasure which he must yield under the steady gaze of the human eye. He has a purse that never contains more than a single shilling at a time.

Of Greater Importance

Maybe, if we be good, he will tell us the secret of riches, for practically everybody wants to have an abundance of the things that money can buy, as well as those that money can't buy, which is of greater importance, as we learn later from experience:

"Riches are not golds or lands, estates or maris; The only wealth that is, is found in human hearts."

True riches do not lie on the surface to be stumbled upon. They are hidden and must be found. "Seek the Lord while he may be found" (Isaiah 55:6).

Did you find Easter? Did you find your wife? "A good wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewels" (Proverbs 31:10).

Your wife carried a jeweled pillowbox with vitamins in her purse, and she found a darling pillowbox hat to wear with it, covered with 50 yards of dotted mauve and white veiling, but made no provision for anything to put under it, no resurrection joy, no new life, no immortal hope. I fear she didn't find Easter.

Stop-press news! Aunt Betsy Doolittle and Uncle Frank who make a cult of poor health and religion, condescended to occupy forsaken pews on Easter as their custom is.

Rocks 'N' Rolls

They were heard to mumble the Creed, hum the tunes and intone the Scottish benediction: "Hold fast to that which thou hast."

Due to epiglottal disuse, Uncle Frank can't carry a tune, he just rocks 'n' rolls.

Because the connubial instinct is so deeply implanted in human nature many would rather be married than find marriage, which is something else.

So, rather than endure the fanciful stigma of bachelordom, they

County, at which Uncle Nixon made some rather amazing confessions. When the judge asked him why he had made no mention of the $10,000, Uncle Nixon replied:

"We had in mind to withhold from showing it as a down payment for tax purposes. In other words, if we could keep under a third of the total purchase price, we didn't have to pay the income tax all in one lump sum. We could have paid it off in a period of years."

"Do you mean you were trying to cheat the government out of a little income tax?" asked the judge.

"No, that was a thought. There was something in back of that entirely that we started."

"Anyway, that's your explanation as to why no mention was made of it?" asked the judge.

"It might have been that we had that in mind when we first started," Nixon replied.

The judge found against Nixon in a scorching opinion which is not going to help the vice president if the Democrats exploit his own theory of guilt by association.

"Atomic Plenty" And Arms Alone

Though it was given a play in the headlines, there was nothing new about Defense Secretary Wilson's warning that atomic stockpiles are now approaching a point where either the United States or Russia could practically wipe out the world. When he said this to a House Military Affairs subcommittee he wasn't telling the congressmen something they didn't know.

Ever since the effects of fall-out from a hydrogen bomb have been revealed, Americans have been aware that it would not take many of these explosions to lay waste even a country as large as this one. In fact, it was because statesmen realized that a nuclear war would amount to mutual destruction that the summit conference took place at Geneva last year.

It is obvious that if the great powers became embroiled in such a struggle the effects would be global in extent as well as cataclysmic.

Yet it is good to have this warning from Mr. Wilson, who is a practical man if there ever was one, and his further observations on what "atomic plenty" means. The Defense Secretary said that while he thinks the present arms budget is "about the best answer" the nation now has to the problem of national security, arms alone "won't quite do the job, and we are going to have to work out something else to finally handle it down the road."

What that something else will be cannot be clearly seen at this moment. In any case, Secretary Wilson sees that there is no real safety in possession of a huge stock of nuclear weapons when Russia possesses a stock equally capable of wrecking this planet.

Another Canadian Error

The Canadian finance minister, Walter Harris, proposes to tax advertising in Canadian editions of American magazines with the object of protecting the circulation of Canadian-owned magazines which apparently cannot take the competition. If this goes through, Congress will probably retaliate by putting an equalizing and reciprocal tax on Canadian whiskey, cheese, oats and other products that come into this country.

Canadian newspapers say that Mr. Harris' tax is a particularly stupid one. The Toronto "Telegram" puts it succinctly:

"The tax is unnecessary, discriminatory and vicious. It is designed only to make it difficult for the United States publications to produce Canadian editions, and not to raise revenue for the government. . ."

The "Globe and Mail" of Toronto made the point: "How can Mr. Harris justify such a tax? Some of these advertisements are American ones, placed in the American edition of the magazine concerned and carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. Some are Canadian ones (for example, tourist advertising) placed in the American edition and directed to its American readers; but, again, carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. And some are specifically Canadian, placed only in the so-called Canadian edition, and directed only to Canadian readers."

"If Mr. Harris is going to tax these magazines for any genuine purpose, he cannot tax the first two types of advertising; he can address himself only to the third. But he said in his budget speech that the 20 per cent would be levied on 'all' revenues they received from advertising, and told reporters afterward that 'all' was exactly what he meant. . ."

What Mr. Harris seems to propose is that all American magazines be forced to withdraw from Canada, not permitting even a single copy to be mailed to that country, lest it be called a Canadian edition and taxed. This is vicious anti-Americanism which can only result in vicious anti-Canadianism.

Apparently the magazine aimed at is the Reader's Digest which employs 322 Canadians and has a Canadian payroll of more than $1,250,000 and is the only true national magazine in Canada, as it publishes in both French and English which are the two national languages of Canada. Time spends about $4,000,000 in Canada. It would not break either of these publications if an unjust tax forced them to withdraw from Canada altogether. Nor would such a withdrawal affect the American economy one way or the other.

What is unfortunate is that many Americans are beginning to feel that our old-time good neighbor with whom we have had so few quarrels and none of them serious or important since we both became nations, is no longer such a good neighbor. Too many incidents are occurring which give the impression that official Canadians believe that the United States is a lemon to be squeezed to the last drop. That is clearly apparent in the Canadian cartelized handling of newsprint which is having such a deleterious effect upon the American newspaper industry. It is in this commodity that Canadian policy really hurts and is producing in this country a bad opinion of Canada.

It would be most unfortunate for both countries, but more so for Canada, if Congress were required by any large section of the American electorate to decide on a policy of economic retaliation. Nobody wants that. Nobody desires any quarrel or misunderstanding with Canada, but it could happen.

For instance, it is very difficult to understand why Lester Pearson, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, pushes so hard for the recognition of Red China. Canada has never had any important interests in China nor has Canada's trade with China ever amounted to much. What is the Canadian interest in this? Why does Lester Pearson embarrass the United States by promoting the cause of Red China? Surely, it cannot be for ideological reasons. What then is the explanation?

It is reported that in the recent conversations among President Eisenhower, the Canadians and Mexicans, Lester Pearson again raised the question of Red China and that he was told off, because the United States is not ready to recognize Red China, not even in 1957 as some plan for us to do. Nor do the American people believe that a nation should shoot its way into the United Nations, particularly by shooting Americans as the Chinese Communists did in Korea.

Big Day For The Bird Watchers

Primaries Give No Real Clue To November Election

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Republicans came out in bigger numbers to vote in Wisconsin than they did in the Minnesota primary while the Democrats did not do as well in Wisconsin as in the Minnesota primary this year.

Although in Minnesota only about 25 per cent of the Republicans who had voted in the 1952 final election went to the polls this year, the Wisconsin presidential primary brought out 52 per cent of the Republicans who voted in the 1952 election. The Democrats, on the other hand, polled in the Minnesota primary 70 per cent of their 1952 election vote but in Wisconsin the Democrats' proportion of their 1952 vote dropped to 46 per cent.

GOP Proportion Bigger

It could be argued that this fall-off in the Democratic vote was due to an absence of any contest in Wisconsin. But there was no contest on the Republican side either. In fact, Wisconsin was supposed to be one of those states where the farm revolt would bring a serious defection in the Republican party. Percentage-wise, nevertheless, the Republicans brought out a slightly bigger proportion of their own vote than the Democrats did.

It is important in comparing the figures of this year's primary elections and the primaries of four years ago to recall that the Republicans staged quite a contest in the 1952 primaries with Taft, Warren and Stassen dividing the vote. So the total Republican vote in the 1952 primary of 776,600 must be compared with the 425,000 cast this year for President Eisenhower and 18,000 for Chapple, or a total of 443,000—virtually no contest.

The Democrats, on the other hand, four years ago, didn't have much of a contest and Senator Kefauver made only a few trips to the state. The total Democratic vote in the 1952 primary was 241,325 as compared with approximately 325,000 this year. It was a gain of about 84,000 votes this time, but when it was noted that Stevenson polled 622,175 in the 1952 election, it will be apparent that the votes in the Democratic primary this week falls far short of the total of four years ago.

Ike's Popularity Significant
The primary campaigns evidently do not arouse the voters as a whole. Most people who are eligible to vote stay away from those who do go to the polls.

Plainly, the most significant thing about the primary votes in Minnesota and Wisconsin is the popularity of President Eisenhower with a large segment of his own party, but the results are not conclusive as to whether these states can be carried by the Republicans next November.

There is no doubt that a farm revolt is on in the Middle West. There is no doubt also that grievances usually accumulate against the party in power. The Republicans are facing a real battle this time and will need to get out their vote. On the surface, it may appear that

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

New tests and treatments have been reported for myasthenia gravis, the nervous disorder in which the muscles tire easily. News of this nature is welcome because we would like to scratch another disease off our list of perennial troublemakers.

In this strange ailment, there is rapid exhaustion of the muscles of eyelids, extremities, voice box, breathing, and swallowing. On awakening in the morning, for example, the majority of victims are able to keep their eyelids open but after an hour or two they droop until the openings resemble slits. The lids cannot be lifted until the muscles are rested thoroughly.

Swallowing, talking, and chewing

are laborious when the mouth and throat are attacked. Involvement of legs and arms slows down movement, so that walking or using the hands is a struggle. Obviously, interference with the breathing mechanism is serious.

Symptoms vary from one patient to the next. In some, only one group of muscles is involved. Others can exert themselves for longer periods before fatigue sets in. Total invalidism is the lot of a few because they cannot perform even the simplest movements such as sitting up or raising the head.

For more than 20 years neostig-

mine has been the standard treatment. The preparation is taken at regular intervals throughout the day, is not habit forming, and does not lose its efficacy even though administered year after year. In fact, neostigmine has done such a good job it is used as the yardstick for comparing the value of any new product introduced.

Mestinon bromide was a near rival until the advent of WIN 8077, which is said to be twice as effective as neostigmine, milligram for milligram, in reducing symptoms. Furthermore, the effect lasts twice as long as the compound is less likely to produce gastrointestinal disturbances. A Boston report says it was successful in 40 of 60 patients.

Eisenhower And Sam Rayburn Rule Against All Congressional Junkets

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It won't be announced publicly, but President Eisenhower has ordered all Army, Navy, Air Force junkets for congressmen canceled until Congress adjourns.

Reason was a vigorous squawk from Speaker Sam Rayburn who found so many of his top committee chairmen out of town shortly before the Easter holiday that he couldn't get any work done. They had disappeared—courtesy of the Navy—on a Navy junket to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The Navy flew them on Navy planes to Cuba, then took them for a cruise on the supercarrier Forrestal.

Rayburn was so furious he telephoned Jim Hagerly at the White House and asked him to have the President warn the Army, Navy and Air Force against taking congressmen away from their work on junkets.

Eisenhower immediately cooperated. Result: The Air Force had to cancel invitations to congressmen to fly to California for the unveiling of the supersonic jet fighter F-104.

NOTE — It's suspected that the brass hats had purposely staged the junket to Cuba in order to get congressmen out of town just as the House of Representatives was scheduled to vote on two generals. Gen. Joseph Swing wanted taken into the Immigration Service. A good many congressmen have objected to too much militarization of civilian agencies. General Swing won out in the end.

Nixon's Uncle

Vice President Nixon has gone out of his way to ask for the transcript of a court hearing involving his uncle, H. H. Nixon.

The transcript is rather long, but the vice president asked for the full text for his own personal scrutiny. Ordinarily what Nixon's Uncle does in California should be of no interest to the rest of the country. But inasmuch as the vice president was a pioneer in establishing guilt by association, it is understandable why he was worried about his uncle. He may be accused of guilt by relation.

When you read the court record, it's easy to understand why the vice president is concerned. For his Uncle Hugh was castigated by Superior Judge Roger A. Pfaff for cheating the government on taxes. "I'm going to steal this from Uncle Sam, and I'm not going to pay taxes on $10,000," Judge Pfaff summarized Uncle Hugh's strategy. "I am trying to cheat the government out of $10,000." That," concluded the judge, "leaves me just as cold as a mackerel."

What happened was that Uncle Hugh Nixon's son had an incurable disease. In order to avoid state inheritance tax and federal estate taxes, the vice president's uncle devised a scheme of selling property belonging to his son, with part of the proceeds to be paid in cash. The cash in turn was to be distributed to various relatives and friends of the son and thus not become part of the son's estate.

Nine Different Checks

The boy executed a power of attorney transferring the property to Uncle Hugh. After that, Uncle Hugh arranged with Phil Hansen to buy the property with a down payment of $10,000. This $10,000, upon Nixon's request, was issued in nine checks, the largest of which was for $2,000. No payee was named on these checks. They were deposited in various banks, some of them without any endorsement whatsoever. Some were even backdated so as to appear they were written a month prior to the actual transaction.

Later, Hansen and Uncle Nixon got into an argument, with the result that suit was brought in the Superior Court of Los Angeles

Hidden Treasure

By Brother Barnabas

Folk tales are common to all nations. They are little novels suited to the intelligence of children, but having a hidden meaning for all ages.

A mythical story comes from Eire which we appropriate for this space because it gives a peg on which to hang a few ideas about a subject of popular interest, how to get rich. Erin go brach! Leprechaun is a knee-high, wrinkle-faced old sprite, usually pictured as making shoes, grinding meal and otherwise helping those who were kind to him.

He is thought to own great treasure which he must yield under the steady gaze of the human eye. He has a purse that never contains more than a single shilling at a time.

Of Greater Importance

Maybe, if we be good, he will tell us the secret of riches, for practically everybody wants to have an abundance of the things that money can buy, as well as those that money can't buy, which is of greater importance, as we learn later from experience:

"Riches are not golds or lands, estates or marls; The only wealth that is, is found in human hearts."

True riches do not lie on the surface to be stumbled upon. They are hidden and must be found. "Seek the Lord while he may be found" (Isaiah 55:6).

Did you find Easter? Did you find your wife? "A good wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewels" (Proverbs 31:10).

Your wife carried a jeweled pillbox with vitamins in her purse, and she found a darling pillbox hat to wear with it, covered with 50 yards of dotted mauve and white veiling, but made no provision for anything to put under it, no resurrection joy, no new life, no immortal hope. I fear she didn't find Easter.

Henshel Says Chamberlain Case Out Of His Jurisdiction

Big Seven Frosh Rule Kept Wilt Out Of Olympic Trials

AAU Official Drops Matter Concerning Cager In Pro Game

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Col. Harry D. Henshel, an official of the Amateur Athletic Union, said today he had checked on a report questioning the amateur status of Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the University of Kansas widely-publicized freshman basketball star, but had dropped the matter when he found it out of his jurisdiction.

"I have no interest at all in Chamberlain or in professionals of any sort," Henshel, who serves as chairman of the U. S. Olympic Basketball Committee, said. "This is strictly a college matter. Neither the AAU nor I have anything to do with it."

Henshel said he feels his name was projected into the case because of a $35,000 slander suit which he recently filed against Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, long time Kansas basketball coach.

"I'll admit that I did look into a report concerning Chamberlain when it appeared that he might qualify for the United States basketball team," Henshel said. "But when he didn't come out for the team I dropped the matter completely."

Freshmen Not Eligible
The Big Seven Conference, of which Kansas is a member, has a rule against freshman participation on post-season events. This knocked the 7-foot Chamberlain out of Olympic consideration.

Henshel said he got a tip from a friend in Philadelphia that Chamberlain had played under an assumed name and against professionals in Cumberland, Md., while he was a 16-year-old in high school. "I was referred to Suter Kegg, sports editor of the Evening Times in Cumberland who had written in article last month about the matter," the AAU official said. "I asked Mr. Kegg to send me the article which he did."

"The article said that Chamberlain, playing under the name of Marcus, had scored 44 points in a game at Cumberland against a team called the Cumberland Old Germans. The team had a playing coach who was a pro, Bob Pence, and other pros named Lou Bell and George Geatz.

"However, I cannot substantiate these reports as facts. I am not attempting to. It's not an AAU or an Olympic problem at all. It's none of my business. It's up to colleges themselves if they want to pursue it."

Henshel said the AAU considered it a serious offense to play under an assumed name and doubtless would take action against such a violation within its own family. Chamberlain, as a collegian, does not fall under AAU jurisdiction.

Chamberlain became the most publicized high school player in years at Overbrook High School in Philadelphia where his scoring feats were phenomenal. He enrolled at Kansas last fall after being sought by countless other colleges.

Hot Stove Will Play On Sundays

Twin Bills Carded, Teams Play 21 Tilts

The Cumberland Hot Stove Baseball League last night voted to play Sunday games and increased the team schedules from 14 to 21 games for the 1956 season.

Six of the eight clubs polled, namely, Kiwanis, Rotary, Jaycees, Optimists, Times-News and B'nai B'rith, favored the playing of Sunday doubleheaders at Stichter Field and Penn Avenue Field. It was announced that all boys in the league will be required to attend church or Sunday school. No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken up at the game to raise funds for new uniforms for the 1957 season. Many of the uniforms now worn by the players have been used for five years and new ones are needed.

A financial report, read at the meeting in City Hall, showed that the league now is "in the black" and a debt of $151 was wiped out during the past year. All players will be insured during the season and each club must pay $22.50 toward the protection offered.

Joey Bags Decision In Syracuse Fight
SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 6 (AP)—Buffalo's Joey Giambra carved out a unanimous 10-round decision over England's tough John L. Sullivan tonight but he had to call on all his ring savvy to outsmart the rugged Englishman. Giambra weighed 156½, Sullivan 161.

It was a bruising battle all the way with most of it devoted to bone and jaw rattling in-fighting. They stood toe-to-toe, head-to-head for a great share of every round and battled away.

Giambra boxed cleverly and coolly to stave off Sullivan's savage attack. At times it looked as if the Englishman was going to win going away but Giambra came back strong in the latter rounds and won the decision by a slim margin.

Judges Richie Fazio and Paul Commes each called it for Giambra 5-4-1 while Referee Harry Kessler called it 4-3-1. The Associated Press had the slim margin favoring Sullivan, 5-4-1.

Colts Can't Play Nov. 4 At Stadium

Park Board Will Enforce 33-Year Contract Of Navy

By GEORGE BOWEN
BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—The City park board refused today to let the Baltimore Colts play the Washington Redskins the day after the Navy-Notre Dame game in Memorial Stadium Nov. 3.

James Anderson, president of the board, announced it was enforcing the Navy contract which he said had been the same for the 33 years and which prohibits any other football game five days before or one day after a Middle contract.

The Colts, fully aware of the restrictive clause, had gone ahead and submitted to the board its schedule, including a Nov. 4 game with the Washington Redskins.

Anderson noted in denying the date that the game should have been played this year in Washington. The two National Football rivals played last season in the Baltimore stadium and the home site usually is alternated.

Suggests Monday Game
Anderson said the park board is willing to meet with the Colts and arrange for another date if they still want to play the Redskins in Baltimore. It has been suggested the game be played Monday night, Nov. 5.

Don Kellett, president of the Colts, said the team is "sorry to learn of the decision," and "even though we do not agree with their decision. . . We will not pursue this playing date any further."

Kellett said the club will make an announcement as soon as possible on when the Redskin game will be played.

Anderson recalled that in 1953 when the Colts were returning to the pro league after a two-year absence they had brought up "the so-called Navy clause." He said the board was told it "was not favorably looked upon by Bert Bell," the league commissioner who makes up the schedule.

Anderson said that at the Colts request the board asked the Naval Academy if it would modify the restrictive clause. Capt. Ian Eddie, then Navy athletic director, declined to make any amendments, Anderson said.

The board president added he had written the Colts the board "would not do anything to incur the ill will" of Navy and so the contract would not be changed.

The Colts also wrote the Navy last November, renewing the request that the limitation be removed. Capt. Elliott Loughlin, the present athletic director, declined again.

Yesterday, Carroll Rosenbloom, principal owner of the Colts, offered to guarantee the Navy a sellout for the Notre Dame game if his team was granted use of the stadium the next day.

The Navy again stood firm on its contract.

Anderson said the city "has been pleased to have Navy use its stadium for about 33 years and the arrangements that apply today are no different than they have been."

Henshel Says Chamberlain Case Out Of His Jurisdiction

Big Seven Frosh Rule Kept Wilt Out Of Olympic Trials

AAU Official Drops Matter Concerning Cager In Pro Game

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Col. Harry D. Henshel, an official of the Amateur Athletic Union, said today he had checked on a report questioning the amateur status of Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the University of Kansas widely-publicized freshman basketball star, but had dropped the matter when he found it out of his jurisdiction.

"I have no interest at all in Chamberlain or in professionals of any sort," Henshel, who serves as chairman of the U. S. Olympic Basketball Committee, said. "This is strictly a college matter. Neither the AAU nor I have anything to do with it."

Henshel said he feels his name was projected into the case because of a $35,000 slander suit which he recently filed against Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, long time Kansas basketball coach.

"I'll admit that I did look into a report concerning Chamberlain when it appeared that he might qualify for the United States basketball team," Henshel said. "But when he didn't come out for the team I dropped the matter completely."

Freshmen Not Eligible

The Big Seven Conference, of which Kansas is a member, has a rule against freshman participation on post-season events. This knocked the 7-foot Chamberlain out of Olympic consideration.

Henshel said he got a tip from a friend in Philadelphia that Chamberlain had played under an assumed name and against professionals in Cumberland, Md., while he was a 16-year-old in high school.

"I was referred to Suter Kegg, sports editor of the Evening Times in Cumberland who had written an article last month about the matter," the AAU official said. "I asked Mr. Kegg to send me the article which he did."

"The article said that Chamberlain, playing under the name of Marcus, had scored 44 points in a game at Cumberland against a team called the Cumberland Old Germans. The team had a playing coach who was a pro, Bob Pence, and other pros named Lou Bell and George Geatz."

"However, I cannot substantiate these reports as facts. I am not attempting to. It's not an AAU or an Olympic problem at all. It's none of my business."

It's Up To College

"It's up to the colleges themselves if they want to pursue it," Henshel said. The AAU considered it a serious offense to play under an assumed name and doubtless would take action against such a violation within its own ranks, Chamberlain, as a collegian, does not fall under AAU jurisdiction.

Chamberlain became the most publicized high school player in years at Overbrook High School in Philadelphia where his scoring feats were phenomenal. He enrolled at Kansas last fall after being sought by countless other colleges.

Cumberland's Knights of Columbus earned the right to play Frostburg American Legion in the American Division finals by beating the Goodfellowship Club by 93 points in six games. Colts Can't Play Nov. 4 At Stadium

Park Board Will Enforce 33-Year Contract Of Navy

By GEORGE BOWEN
BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—The City park board refused today to hold the Baltimore Colts play the Washington Redskins the day after the Navy-Notre Dame game in Memorial Stadium Nov. 3.

James Anderson, president of the board, announced it was enforcing the Navy contract which he said had been the same for the 33 years and which prohibits any other football game five days before or one day after a Middleceoff.

The Colts, fully aware of the restrictive clause, had gone ahead and submitted to the board its schedule, including a Nov. 4 game with the Washington Redskins.

Anderson noted in denying the date that the game should have been played this year in Washington. The two National Football rivals played last season in the Baltimore stadium and the home site usually is alternated.

Suggests Monday Game

Anderson said the park board is willing to meet with the Colts and arrange for another date if they still want to play the Redskins in Baltimore. It has been suggested the game be played Monday night, Nov. 5.

Don Kellett, president of the Colts, said the team is "sorry to learn of the decision," and "even though we do not agree with their decision. . . We will not pursue this playing date any further."

Kellett said the club will make an announcement as soon as possible on when the Redskins game will be played.

Anderson recalled that in 1953 when the Colts were returning to the pro league after a two-year absence they had brought up "the so-called Navy clause." He said the board was told it "was not favorably looked upon by Bert Bell," the league commissioner who makes up the schedule.

Anderson said that at the Colts request the board asked the Naval Academy if it would modify the restrictive clause. Capt. Ian Eddie, then Navy athletic director, declined to make any amendments, Anderson said.

The board president added he had written the Colts the board "would not do anything to incur the ill will" of Navy and so the contract would not be changed.

The Colts also wrote the Navy last November, renewing the request that the limitation be removed. Capt. Elliott Loughlin, the present athletic director, declined again.

Yesterday, Carroll Rosenbloom, principal owner of the Colts, offered to guarantee the Navy a sellout for the Notre Dame game if his team was granted use of the stadium the next day.

Stands Firm On Pact

The Navy again stood firm on its contract.

Anderson said the city "has been pleased to have Navy use its stadium for about 33 years and the arrangements that apply today are no different than they have been."

Ken Venturi Shoots 135, Gains Four-Stroke Lead

Middlecoff Second In Masters Tourney; Hogan Trails At 147

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—On a blustery day when Ben Hogan was lucky to break 80 and Cary Middlecoff was happy to settle for par, amateur Ken Venturi again tamed the fearsome par of the Augusta National Golf Club to hold the 36-hole lead in the Masters tournament with a record-tying 135 score.

Rounds of 66 in yesterday's rain and 69 in today's gusty wind put the young San Francisco auto salesman four strokes ahead of defending champion Middlecoff at the halfway point of the tournament. And a lot of other celebrated golfers were even further behind. Middlecoff, somewhat disturbed by the wind, put a par 72 on top of yesterday's 67.

Trails By Twelve

Hogan, once tabbed as virtually unbeatable on the menacing 6,965-yard Augusta National course, had to make a strong comeback on the back nine to get a score of 78 today. A first round 69 had indicated that the tense Texan again would be a contender for the title he has won twice. But his 147 for 36 holes left him well behind the professional leaders.

Venturi, poised and polished as a veteran, was one of the few Masters contestants who displayed any mastery of the par 36-72 course which was at its very worst in the strong, uncertain wind. And it didn't even seem to surprise him that he was able to shatter the always tough par for the second straight day.

"I think two more 69's will win it," he joked after his surprising round.

Nelson Had 135 In 1942

Byron Nelson, to whom Venturi gives credit for developing his fine golf game, was the last previous player to shoot 135 for the first two rounds of the Masters. That was in 1942, when he shot 68-67 on the first two rounds then went on to beat Hogan in a title playoff. The original record, tied by Nelson and now by Nelson's prize pupil, was 67-68 by Henry Picard in 1933. Picard didn't win.

Pete Cooper, weatherbeaten Detroit veteran who was one of the very few able to break par today; PGA champion Doug Ford; steady-shooting Shelley Mayfield and a somewhat unhappy Tommy Bolt all had 142's. Then came Jerry Barber and Jackie Burke at 143 and Bob Rosburg and Fred Hawkins with even par 144's.

Cooper, adding a 70 to his opening 72, had the day's second-best score. It was matched by National Amateur Champion Harvie Ward, who also sells automobiles in San Francisco for Venturi's employer, Burke, with a 71, was the day's only other par-buster.

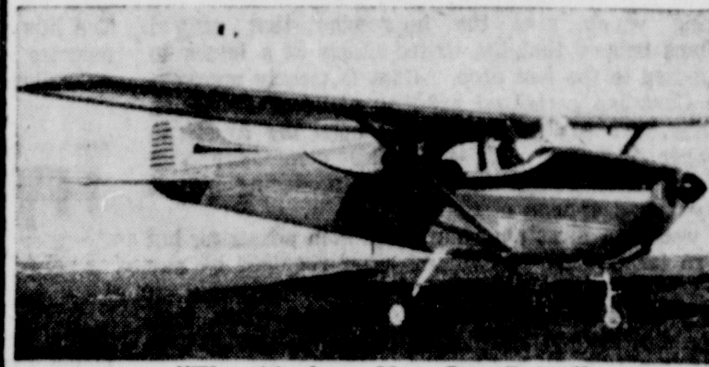

Snead Shoots 149

Hogan wasn't the worst off of the players who had been picked as pre-tournament favorites. One of the three-time Masters winners, Jimmy Demaret, who played with Venturi, had a 75 for 148. The other three-time winner, Sam Snead, had 73-76-149 and National Open Champion Jack Fleck 74-77-151. And England's veteran Henry Cotton, the man everyone figured would play well in the wind, came along with 77-83-160.

Game Reset Monday

Rain washed out Fort Hill High School's opening baseball game with the Alumni yesterday and the contest has been rescheduled for Monday at 3:30 p. m. Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh announced last night.

Father Kilkenny Is Among Priests Honored By Pope

Very Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, rural dean of Western Maryland and pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, is one of seven priests in the Baltimore Archdiocese who have been given the title of Domestic Prelate by Pope Pius XII. The honor carries with it the title of "Right Rev. Monsignor."

The honor was also conferred on Rev. George L. Hopkins, chancellor of the archdiocese and rector of the Baltimore Cathedral, who is a native of Mt. Savage.

Father Kilkenny has been pastor of St. Patrick's and rural dean since March 28, 1947, when he came here from St. Joseph's parish, Midland, where he had been pastor four years.

Born in Parkton, Md., a son of the late John and Ellen (Hanley) Kilkenny, he was educated in public schools and made his preparatory studies for the priesthood at St. Charles College, Catonsville, and studied philosophy and theology at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore.

He was ordained in the Baltimore Cathedral on June 16, 1927, and was assigned as a curate at St. Paul's Church, Washington. Father Kilkenny was named assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Washington, in 1936 and remained there until December 1943, when he was appointed pastor of the Midland church.

He is a cousin of former U. S. Senator Herbert R. O'Connor. Father Kilkenny celebrated his silver jubilee as a priest in 1952.

Father Hopkins was ordained May 30, 1939, and his first parish

Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., was invited to the Masters golf tournament as a result of winning the 1955 North and South amateur.

Bunn Hearn is putting in his 27th and final season as baseball coach at North Carolina.

Cal Hubbard, supervisor of umpires in the American League, is a former star lineman for the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants in the National Football League.

Bishop Inspects Improvements At St. James Episcopal Church

WESTERNPORT — Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, bishop of the Diocese of Maryland, gave an address on "Our Heritage of Freedom" at a meeting of members of St. James Episcopal parish Wednesday in the new parish house.

Bishop Powell will return for his annual visitation Sunday morning, June 17.

While here the Bishop inspected the new organ and improvements made to the church, as well as the new parish hall, and was well pleased with accomplishments since last fall.

During the business meeting, the by-laws were amended to increase the number of vestrymen from eight to 12. Four new members will be elected each year.

Twelve members were elected, four each to serve for three, two and one years respectively.

Louis W. Hicks, Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, Jr., and J. Stuart Kuhnle, were elected for three years. Daniel Staley, Thompson G. Foreback, John A. Dick and Donald Bantz, for two years; and W. Howard Peyton, Richard Whitworth, Raymond C. Hudson and Robert C. Keller for one year.

At its next meeting April 30, the vestry will appoint two wardens.

Rev. W. G. Wilson Jr., rector of the church, who was chosen chairman of the meeting, gave his report of the churches progress during the year and the improvements made.

Representatives of the Sunday school, St. James Guild, St. Martha's Guild and the Alter Guild made their reports. Louis W. Hicks gave reports of the general church fund and the building and improvement fund.

Since October, $9,000 was spent for the new organ and improvements to the church. To date, the parish house has cost $16,900. The deficit stands at $12,000.

The parish house is practically a new building. All but two walls and the foundation of the old building were razed. Three class rooms, two rest rooms, a stairway and modern kitchen have been added.

The walls of the assembly room and upstairs class rooms have been painted aspen green. The kitchen was painted white.

Equipment in the modern kitchen includes four stainless sinks, placed back to back in the center of the room. The formica tops are yellow. The vinyl asbestos flooring over the entire downstairs is of tan and yellow block.

A movable counter with doors opening both ways has been placed between the kitchen and the assembly room.

Two 30-inch electric ranges, two 8-foot refrigerators and an automatic gas water heater are also included in the equipment. A ten-burner commercial gas range with ovens has been ordered. Moulding in the kitchen provides electric receptacles every 12 inches.

With the new facilities, it will be possible to serve 150 people seated comfortably.

new parish house for the first time on Palm Sunday.

The store building, which has been used as a parish house for several years, has been rented to Paul Davis for a new flower shop.

Projects which are to be undertaken include finishing the choir room, black toping the parking area and driveway, landscaping the grounds and painting wood-work of the church.

"Though we take it for granted," Bishop Powell stated, "our heritage of freedom is based on a Christian Heritage. Thomas Jefferson wrote in the Declaration of Independence that all men are created equal, and endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights." However, this is not true in countries which do not have the Christian endowment, the Bishop pointed out.

Cultural Use Of FSTC Will Be Discussed

FROSTBURG — R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, has issued invitations to presidents and leaders of local organizations to attend a meeting Sunday at 3 p. m. in the social room of Lowndes Hall to discuss the use of the college facilities by community groups for cultural purposes.

Hardesty stated in his letter that last June a limited number of presidents of organizations in the Frostburg area met at the college and discussed the utilization of the auditorium for cultural programs.

Those present indicated that he or she would discuss the matter during the past winter with the organizations, and it was agreed that they would meet again at a later date.

In closing, Hardesty said, "We have a very fine facility in our auditorium and I believe it should be put to greater use by our community for cultural programs of general interest to the community."

KEYSER — Ten students from Keyser High School are attending the annual Student Council Leadership Conference at W. Va. University in Morgantown over the week end. The students were accompanied by the council sponsor, Joseph W. Kessel, member of the local high school faculty.

Those attending are: Carol Pyles, Carolyn Trenter, Joseph Giffin, Thomas Kennedy, John Burgess, Lois Ann Whipp, Ellen Carvey, Ruby Davis, Donna Ashenfelter and Judy Alt.

The council sessions are held at stated periods over the three day conference, with workshops today.

"Hot Rod" Huntley was the narrator for a film on a West Virginia University basketball game. The annual Student Council banquet and dance will feature the weekend, tonight. Delegates will remain over Sunday and students may attend the church of their choice for services, and will return home late Sunday.

WESTERNPORT — William Gannon, of Baltimore, formerly of Westernport will leave New York, April 14 for England where he will work on a cable project for the Western Electric Company, by whom he is employed.

In late May, he plans to return to Baltimore for his wife, the former Margaret Ann Whitworth, and their three children, who will accompany him to England. They will sail June 5 and expect to be in England about a year.

Former County Man
To Work In England

WESTERNPORT — Ernest Hitt, Washington Street, was named as chief judge for the town election to be held in the Westernport city building Tuesday, May 22. A mayor and four councilmen will be elected. Others named to assist in conducting the election were Howard Fazenbaker, Mrs. Henrietta Kazlo and Mrs. Margaret Kelley Daniels.

Two more will be appointed by the council to assist in the work at the polls. As the county's new voting machines will be used for this election, persons with some knowledge of the working of the machines are being sought.

All citizens must be newly registered to make them eligible to vote in the election. Wednesday, April 18, and Tuesday, May 15, are the remaining days designated for registration. Registration clerks will be at the city building on those two dates from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m.

The recent certification of the town's water supply by the Maryland State Department of Health is due largely to the large amount of chlorine being added to the water as it leaves Savage River Dam, Mayor Okey Michael stated.

The mayor and commissioners plan to install a new chlorinator at the new filtration plant when it is completed. When the water has been properly filtered the amount of chlorine added to the water will be greatly reduced. The large amount of chlorine now being used is the cause for most of the complaints being made on the quality of the town's water.

The concrete foundation for the proposed new water tank near the new Bruce High School building has been poured, Commissioner Harry Richards announced. Work on the new filtration plant on Westernport Hill is expected to get underway soon.

Charles Riley, Alonzo Riggelman, and William Bosley appeared before the council in behalf of Memorial Baptist Church to request laying of tile along the church lot on Roosevelt Street to provide for surface water drainage. The request was referred to the street commissioner.

Bishop Inspects Improvements At St. James Episcopal Church

WESTERNPORT — Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, bishop of the Diocese of Maryland, gave an address on "Our Heritage of Freedom" at a meeting of members of St. James Episcopal parish Wednesday in the new parish house.

Bishop Powell will return for his annual visitation Sunday morning, June 17.

While here the Bishop inspected the new organ and improvements made to the church, as well as the new parish hall, and was well pleased with accomplishments since last fall.

During the business meeting, the by-laws were amended to increase the number of vestrymen from eight to 12. Four new members will be elected each year.

Twelve members were elected, four each to serve for three, two and one years respectively.

Louis W. Hicks, Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, Jr., and J. Stuart Kuhnle, were elected for three years. Daniel Staley, Thompson G. Foreback, John A. Dick and Donald Bantz, for two years; and W. Howard Peyton, Richard Whitworth, Raymond C. Hudson and Robert C. Keller for one year.

At its next meeting April 30, the vestry will appoint two wardens.

Representatives of the Sunday school, St. James Guild, St. Martha's Guild and the Alter Guild made their reports. Louis W. Hicks gave reports of the general church fund and the building and improvement fund.

The parish house is practically a new building. All but two walls and the foundation of the old building were razed. Three class rooms, two rest rooms, a stairway and modern kitchen have been added.

The walls of the assembly room and upstairs class rooms have been painted aspen green. The kitchen was painted white.

Equipment in the modern kitchen includes four stainless sinks, placed back to back in the center of the room. The formica tops are yellow. The vinyl asbestos flooring over the entire downstairs is of tan and yellow block.

A movable counter with doors opening both ways has been placed between the kitchen and the assembly room.

Two 30-inch electric ranges, two 8-foot refrigerators and an automatic gas water heater are also included in the equipment. A ten-burner commercial gas range with ovens has been ordered. Moulding in the kitchen provides electric receptacles every 12 inches.

With the new facilities, it will be possible to serve 150 people seated comfortably.

Kelly said the Vocke Road home is called the "Westshire," and is one of 75 different styles offered by his firm.

Features of the house include a 22-foot living room, three bedrooms, a unit kitchen in color, tile baths, hot air heating system with baseboard radiation, hardwood floors, aluminum spouting and copper tubing.

Kelly said the property includes a 111 x 100 lot and a two-car blacktopped driveway.

New Curfew Is Planned In Ridgeley

Another symbol of by-gone days will soon be a thing of the past, according to Mayor Charles H. Fryer of Ridgeley, who said that community is planning to supplant the sounding of the 9 p. m. curfew with a similar one an hour later.

The present curfew has been in effect around 30 years, Mayor Fryer said, adding that it has been unenforceable practically since its adoption.

The first reading of the ordinance, which stipulates that children under 18 years of age must be off the streets from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m., was made at a council meeting Tuesday evening. Mayor Fryer said a special meeting of the council will be held at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 17, at which time the second and final reading will take place. The ordinance will probably go into effect immediately, the mayor explained.

Stipulations will allow youths to remain on the streets later than the curfew only for reason of work or church or school activities, or unless accompanied by parents or responsible adults.

In order to "put teeth" in the ordinance, Mayor Fryer said parents will be held responsible for violations of the curfew, with the violations to be treated as misdemeanor acts and punishable with fines up to $25.

In another action at Tuesday's meeting, the Ridgeley Council again voted to allow parking on Main Street between Mineral and Silver streets, although the ban is still in effect from Silver Street to the city limits. The action was taken on the request of residents of the street, who termed the ruling a hardship.

Liquor Board Must Act In License Case

Chief Judge George Henderson has handed down an opinion in which he has remanded the appeal of Clopper-Michael Post 10, American Legion, Boonsboro, back to the Washington County Board of License Commissioners for taking of additional testimony and action in the case.

The Boonsboro organization was refused a club liquor license on two occasions and took an appeal in the most recent case. Judge Henderson heard the case in Washington County Circuit Court after Associate Judge D. K. McLaughlin disqualified himself.

Judge Henderson stated that "This action in remanding the entire matter to the board for further proceedings is not a reversal of the board. It is done for the purpose of enabling the board to base its final decision on the consideration only of proper factors. And it must be the decision of the board itself, based on proper grounds. The board cannot say 'we will ask the Town Council (of Boonsboro) and abide by its decision.'"

Judge Henderson declared: "Nor can it say 'we will have a show of hands at the meeting and abide by the results.' Nor should it accept as proven 'off the record' statements from persons who fail to testify to the same effect when given an opportunity to do so, particularly when their sworn statements are contradicted by the sworn testimony of others."

The refusal of the board to grant the license is based on two stated reasons: That the petitions submitted two to one in opposition and that there is no disposition on the part of the town government to encourage this application.

"It would seem proper for the board in deciding whether a club should have a license in an already 'wet town' to go more thoroughly into the motives of those who are opposing a club license," Judge Henderson declared. "There may be any number of good reasons for the opposition, but that certain individuals are personally opposed to any use or sale of liquor is not a good reason in a town where there are licenses to sell alcoholic beverages."

"Therefore it would seem the board erred in turning down the application on the ground that more people signed a resolution in opposition than did those favoring the license," the jurist opined. "As to the disposition of the town government one thing is clear: with one or two exceptions they do not want to be 'put on a spot' as officials and they are right in saying to the board that it must make the official decision," he added. As individuals a plurality of the Council favored the license and some took no stand at the time of the second application, it was pointed out.

Copies of the decision have been sent to Circuit Court in Washington County.

Heller Completes 30 Years With City

Andrew W. Heller, street superintendent, yesterday completed 30 years service with the Street Department of the City of Cumberland.

He has been superintendent since 1952 and prior to that had worked since 1928 as construction foreman. A veteran of World War I, Heller was first employed as a laborer in the department April 6, 1926. His first job, he recalls, was helping clean out the 36-inch sewer under the B&O Railroad between Union and Harrison streets.

A second is now defined by scientists as 1/31,556,925,974th part of a year, says the National Geographic Society.

Inspection Of Home Set Over Weekend

A prefabricated model home will be open for inspection this weekend on Vocke Road, LaVale, according to John A. Kelly, local agent for the housing firm.

Kelly said the Vocke Road home is called the "Westshire," and is one of 75 different styles offered by his firm.

Features of the house include a 22-foot living room, three bedrooms, a unit kitchen in color, tile baths, hot air heating system with baseboard radiation, hardwood floors, aluminum spouting and copper tubing.

Kelly said the property includes a 111 x 100 lot and a two-car blacktopped driveway.

Liquor Board Must Act In License Case

Chief Judge George Henderson has handed down an opinion in which he has remanded the appeal of Clopper-Michael Post 10, American Legion, Boonsboro, back to the Washington County Board of License Commissioners for taking of additional testimony and action in the case.

The Boonsboro organization was refused a club liquor license on two occasions and took an appeal in the most recent case. Judge Henderson heard the case in Washington County Circuit Court after Associate Judge D. K. McLaughlin disqualified himself.

Judge Henderson stated that "This action in remanding the entire matter to the board for further proceedings is not a reversal of the board. It is done for the purpose of enabling the board to base its final decision on the consideration only of proper factors. And it must be the decision of the board itself, based on proper grounds. The board cannot say 'we will ask the Town Council (of Boonsboro) and abide by its decision'."

Judge Henderson declared: "Nor can it say 'we will have a show of hands at the meeting and abide by the results'. Nor should it accept as proven 'off the record' statements from persons who fail to testify to the same effect when given an opportunity to do so, particularly when their sworn statements are contradicted by the sworn testimony of others."

The refusal of the board to grant the license is based on two stated reasons: That the petitions submitted to one in opposition and that there is no disposition on the part of the town government to encourage this application.

"It would seem proper for the board in deciding whether a club should have a license in an already 'wet town' to go more thoroughly into the motives of those who are opposing a club license," Judge Henderson declared. "There may be any number of good reasons for the opposition, but that certain individuals are personally opposed to any use or sale of liquor is not a good reason in a town where others have licenses to sell alcoholic beverages."

"Therefore it would seem the board erred in turning down the application on the ground that more people signed a resolution in opposition than did those favoring the license," the jurist opined. "As to the disposition of the town government one thing is clear: with one or two exceptions they do not want to be 'put on a spot' as officials and they are right in saying to the board that it must make the official decision," he added. As individuals a plurality of the Council favored the license and some took no stand at the time of the second application, it was pointed out.

Copies of the decision have been sent to Circuit Court in Washington County.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my many friends and neighbors who were so kind to me during my recent bereavement, the death of my beloved husband, Charles T. Diffendall. I am grateful for the use of cars for the funeral, to those who sent floral tributes, and the B&O employees who acted as pallbearers.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear son and brother, Mr. Robert H. Day, who lost his life in Korea, April 7th, 1955.

Just a year ago today, dear Buddie, Sad and sudden was your call, I wish you were here to see me, A bitter grief to part with one so dear We often sit and think of you, And speak of how much we miss you, To think you could not say goodbye Before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best, May God grant you eternal rest. Sadly missed by his Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters.

Highway Litter War Declared

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners was requested yesterday by the Garden Club of Cumberland to engage in a drive to eliminate the scattering of rubbish and litter along Oldtown Road from the city limits to a point where it intersects with the city dump road.

Signed by Mrs. Gilbert M. Miller, the letter states the recently organized club is interested in civic beautification and conservation. It was pointed out that with the building of the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant at North Branch the Oldtown Road will be used by many visitors to this area as well as residents.

The club offered to aid in any concerted drive to eliminate the situation. Members of the county board commented that the Oldtown Road is a state highway and the matter should be referred to the SRC offices here as well as to officials of the City of Cumberland. They said they would cooperate in any plan to eliminate the situation referred to by Mrs. Miller.

A group of residents of the Oldtown section appeared before the board to request that repairs be made to the Wilson Road. They said it is in bad condition.

Owners of the property abutting on the Wilson Road will be asked to give rights of way for a 40-foot width so that the roadway may possibly be included in the county roads system at a later date.

Appearing in this matter were Ross F. Shaw, Julius Evans, Guy Evans, Hobert Smith and William Shyrook.

Don Cook appeared to ask that something be done about Celanese Boulevard in Cresaptown.

Maryland farmers, he said, do not want parity but a competitive market.

President Eisenhower himself has said "This administration is committed to a program of progressive moderation, liberal in its human concerns, conservative in its economic proposals, constructively dynamic and optimistic in its appraisal of the future."

"This program, Beall said, 'merits the endorsement and support of thinking, confident, forward-looking Americans.'

"For our national economy, we seek a dependable stability in our present assets, a vigorous expansion in our future growth."

"These can be best achieved, we believe, by giving the private citizen the greatest possible opportunity—consistent with the rights of others—to contribute to the development of the economy and to share in its abundance."

"Now let's look at the record. Lists Changes

"In place of reaction in foreign affairs—action.

"In place of peak target dates in defense—the long pull.

"In place of softness towards Communism—firmness.

"In place of planned deficits in finance—a balanced budget.

"In place of increases in taxation—reductions.

"In place of a shrinking buying power of the dollar—stability.

"In place of unchangeability in agriculture—flexibility and adaptability.

"In place of misguided favoritism in labor—fairness.

"In place of antagonism to business—encouragement.

"In place of government paternalism in natural resources—partnership.

"In place of promises on housing—better housing.

Mitchell Cites Benefits Under GOP

Says Democrat Congress Stalls Labor Program

Beall Charges Demos Are 'Dragging Feet'

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell last night cited record payrolls and employment as an example of how workers fare under a Republican administration.

Speaking at an "Eisenhower for President" box supper, he said more people are at work today at the highest wages in history—with the lowest number of unemployed.

Stabilization of prices, he said, have given today's workers the highest purchasing power in history.

From 1953 to 1955, he said, the purchasing power of workers rose $6 a week, as opposed to the record made 1944 to 1952, when they suffered a net loss of $1.88 a week—in spite of an increase of $21.88 a week.

When benefits in Social Security unemployment compensation and fringe benefits are added, it means, he said, that workers are better off than they have ever been.

Can't Stand Still

He warned, however, that today's dynamic economy cannot stand still.

Mitchell said he has introduced much sound "pro-labor" legislation but, due primarily to the fact that Congress is controlled by Democrats, has been able to secure passage of only one item, the increase in the minimum wages.

He said he has been unable to secure even a hearing on such legislation as industrial safety, federal supervision of health and welfare funds, and maximum working hours in the construction industry.

He said he hoped the people in the November election will change the situation.

In his impromptu speech, given instead of a prepared address due to a delayed arrival, he said it is heartening to see the concern of management and labor for securing equality of job opportunity for the physically handicapped, minority groups and older workers.

"Road To Socialism"

Today's economy, Mitchell said, is what happens when you really let the free enterprise system work.

For 20 years, he said, the country was conditioned to the idea that every problem had to be solved in Washington.

What President Eisenhower has done, he said, is to let the enthusiasm and know-how of the country flower.

He termed the reversal of the trend toward centralization the most significant thing that has happened for many years.

Had the country continued down the road of controls, he said, it would have wound up with Socialism.

"Guardian Of People"

Mitchell was introduced by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, whom Mitchell congratulated as a stalwart supporter of labor legislation.

The GOP, Hyde said, has been known as the Grand Old Party. He suggested "Guardian of the People," as a better motto.

It is a good motto, he said, because it is a fact.

Opponents, he said, have accused the Republicans of being the tool of big business.

But the laws passed to keep big business under control were passed under GOP administrations, and the first big "trust buster" was "Teddy" Roosevelt.

Business got big, he said, during the past 20 years under Democratic control.

He charged that the Democrats are hampering efforts to reverse the trend by starving out the Anti-Trust Department.

James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, was master of ceremonies for the dinner held at Ali Ghan Country Club and attended by almost 300 persons.

Cites "Feet-Dragging"

Senator J. Glenn Beall, introduced by Getty as "Mr. C & O Canal Parkway," said he has never seen so much "dragging of feet" as this year.

Democrats, he said, are in the driver's seat in both houses and will not let President Eisenhower's program out of committee.

He cited the agriculture bill as (Continued on Page 13, Col. 8)

Says Labor Legislation Stymied

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking at last night's Eisenhower for President dinner, cited today's economy as an example of how labor fares under a Republican administration, and charged that most of his program is bottled up by Demo-

Keegan Asks Parents' Aid In Keeping Flood Job Safe

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan is issuing an urgent appeal to parents to assist in preventing tragedies during the construction of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program.

The loss of a life on a construction project, he said, is a terrible tragedy, and too much cannot be said and done to prevent such an occurrence.

Children, and particularly adventurous boys, wander around construction jobs where huge equipment, such as cranes, power shovels, bulldozers and earth moving equipment is at work.

Gas Line Work Requires County To Pay $5,598

A $5,598.91 payment must be made to the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company as reimbursement to the utility for expenses incurred in the relocation of a gas line during construction of the Mt. Savage School Road from Mt. Savage to the community school.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, explained the county's obligation in a letter to William H. Lemert, president of the Board of County Commissioners, read at yesterday's meeting.

The new road was located in an area where the C&A Gas Company had a six-inch high-pressure gas line and the line had to be relocated when a 29-foot cut was made in that area. A temporary line had to be laid by the gas company. The six-inch line had to be removed until after the cut had been completed. Then the regular high-pressure line had to be placed back in service and the temporary line removed.

Chaires wrote that he had instructed the SRC Accounting Department to set aside the $5,598.91 from county funds for the road project to reimburse the C&A Gas Company.

County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman informed the county board that the 30-mile speed limit signs which it ordered Tuesday along Cash Valley Road have been installed by his workers.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson reported that Earl L. Warner, operator of Buck's Motel on Baltimore Pike, had complained to him about water draining off a county road onto his property. This matter was referred to Chapman.

The contract with the George Construction Company for installing the new equipment in the main court room at the Court House was approved. This work was done during the past several weeks.

Senator Beall Sees Seven Naturalized

Seven foreign-born residents of Allegany and Garrett counties were naturalized as citizens of the United States in a ceremony in the Allegany County Court House here yesterday.

Witnessed by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall yesterday afternoon, Senator Beall sat on the bench beside Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in the ceremony in the recently redecorated court room.

Judge Harris cautioned the group of seven women that they were taking a serious step in pledging their faith to a new country and said this should not be done for selfish reasons or ulterior motives.

He cited some of their rights and obligations as citizens of the United States. He told the seven women that the two most important documents in the development of a democracy here were the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution.

Recalls History

Judge Harris also recalled that the United States as a republic is 169 years old, much younger than other republics which eventually collapsed because selfish men assumed the power of leadership.

In closing he expressed his appreciation to Senator Beall for the latter's help in the acquisition of the furnishings which had stood unused in the federal courtroom at the Post Office Building for more than 15 years. He termed it a great service to the people of Allegany County.

As a result of the agreement under which the county acquired the solid walnut furnishings, the federal government was given the right to hold Federal Court in the Allegany County Court House whenever the need should arise.

The space formerly occupied by the federal court room is now being used by the Post Office.

Sensor Beall then briefly offered his congratulations to the seven candidates for United States citizenship. He said he considered it a real pleasure to see these new citizens receive their oath of allegiance to this country.

Wants Laws Fixed

Maryland's junior senator then told the women that he thought there were a lot of discriminations in the McCarran-Walter Act and he expressed a hope that this Congress might amend the act to make it easier for more people to come to this country and become citizens here.

Mrs. Edwina V. A. Avery, naturalized yesterday, said (Continued on Page 13, Col. 7)

Forfeits $47.45 Bond For Overload

Glen Gene Kirby, Baltimore, driver of a Maryland Contracting Company truck, forfeited a $47.45 bond yesterday before Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

He was charged with a 2,300-pound overload on a load moved by permit when arrested March 29 on Route 40 by Richard F. Boyle.

Safety In Distance

The police official urged parents to assist in preventing a tragedy by warning their children of the dangers and advising them to stay away from the work areas.

The only safe way, he said, is for children to stay at a safe distance from the equipment and to keep out of the construction area.

The work being done by the Corps of Engineers, he said, will be a great benefit to the city.

The accidental loss of a life of a single child, or a serious injury to one of them, he said, "is not the price we want to pay for progress."

Calvert County Is Overrun By Senate Aspirants

Tydings, Mahoney, Williams Stumping

[By The Associated Press] Calvert County was practically overrun with political candidates Friday as Democratic Senate aspirants Millard Tydings, George P. Mahoney and George Washington Williams swept through Southern Maryland seeking votes.

Rep. Richard E. Lankford, running for re-election as Fifth District congressman, and his primary rival, L. Harold Sotheron, were also reported in the area.

Tydings got the endorsement of Calvert County's State Sen. Louis L. Goldstein, who showed him around.

Backs Tydings

"I am for Tydings and I am going to escort him around the County. I would have gone around the County with Mr. Mahoney if he had asked me. But Mr. Tydings asked me and Mr. Mahoney did not," said Goldstein.

The Senate president took Tydings through Prince Frederick and other communities in a typical "shoe leather" invasion, entering stores and public places to introduce the candidate and seek support for him.

Tydings declared that the present campaign is the most intensive he has waged since 1938 when the late President Roosevelt came out against him in a speech at Denton.

Tydings was a U.S. senator for 24 years before his 1950 defeat at the hands of the incumbent Republican, John Marshall Butler.

Candidates Meet

Tydings and Mahoney encountered each other briefly in the county commissioners' office at Prince Frederick. They exchanged brief but pleasant greetings and continued to other offices.

Mahoney has never carried Calvert in his previous attempts at public office, but came within 80 votes of winning it from H. C. Byrd in the 1954 gubernatorial primary which Byrd won by a narrow margin.

The county central committee has declared itself neutral in the coming May 7 primary battle. The three county commissioners, however, have declared for Mahoney.

Garner Grover, of St. Leonard's, is the county campaign manager for Mahoney.

Williams planned to attend the dinner meeting Friday night of the Calvert County Democratic Women's Club. He has based much of his campaign on outspoken opposition to integration of white and Negro children in public schools.

Feldstein Wins Junk Appeal

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (P)—The Court of Appeals today ruled that Abraham Feldstein of LaVale would not have to abandon his scrap metal business in the Cumberland suburb merely because the property was considered "unsightly" by neighbors.

The court noted that there are no zoning regulations in the community and that "the appellees, when they bought or constructed their homes, knew or should have known that there was a junk yard in the vicinity and . . . there were no restrictions against appellant's property."

The lower court had issued six regulations applying to operation of the junk yard, but Feldstein contested only the two dealing with his concealing and removing scrap and other materials on his property which the Court of Appeals found would put him "out of a lawful business."

The high court affirmed the uncontested rules dealing with hours of sales, burning of materials, blocking of a county road and allowing "rats or mice to congregate on said property."

Scott's appointment was announced last night by R. Finley Thompson, Amcelle plant manager. The new assistant superintendent joined Celanese in 1946 after graduating from the University of Maryland as a chemical engineer.

Before that, he had graduated in 1939 from Allegany High School here, then attended Potomac State College at Keyser and the University of Maryland.

He spent 2 1/2 years in the chemical warfare division of the Army during World War II.

Scott is married and the father of two daughters and a son. He is vice chairman of the board of Central Methodist Church, is a member of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, and is chairman of the pool committee of the Celanese Athletic Association.

His appointment was effective immediately.

Young Pa. Driver Is Arrested After Auto Strikes Bus

A 14-year-old Williamsport, Pa., boy reportedly "borrowed" an auto belonging to his uncle and $55 from his mother and was "headed south" when the car he was operating plowed into the rear of an Osgood bus at Danville early yesterday afternoon.

Trooper First Class Donald R. Wade said a loaded .30-30 deer rifle (also belonging to the boy's uncle) was in the car. After the mishap, the boy gave it to a man who was at the scene of the accident. It was retrieved.

The boy, termed "a nervous type," was taken to Juvenile Court here but was turned over to Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, as motor vehicle violations were involved.

Magistrate Mason charged the traveler with operating a car without a license, and with reckless driving. Sentence on the boy was deferred until this morning when his parents will appear before Mason. The boy, who pleaded guilty, was kept at the Allegany County Infirmary overnight.

Police Arrest Two Youths In Airport Holdup

Third Suspect Is Implicated

Two youths were in custody last night as members of a teen-age trio which staged an armed holdup Tuesday evening at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, robbing a Somerset man of $9 and some change. A third youth was expected to be arrested today.

Local authorities and police of Ridgeley worked hand-in-hand in the arrest of the youths and State Police at LaVale were called last night to apprehend the third youth, who was implicated by the other two.

Police Chief Harry L. Detrick of Ridgeley arrested Emil Comer, 18, of Wiley Ford Thursday night and later William M. Lloyd, 17, of 405 South Cedar Street, city, gave himself up to Chief Detrick. Give Statements

Police said the two youths admitted taking part in the late evening holdup and gave statements to Chief Detrick and City Police Detective Joseph H. Sticher.

Maryland State Police at LaVale were given a description of the third boy and were requested to take him into custody. The trio will be given a preliminary hearing before C. J. Phillips, justice of the peace in Ridgeley.

Warrants charging armed robbery were sworn out against the three youths.

Police said the trio met Tuesday, decided to "get into a little trouble," and proceeded to the airport area.

They approached one parked car, police said, but the driver threatened to call police and drove away.

Next the three youths went to the parked car occupied by George E. Walker, of Somerset, Pa., who was sitting in the car with his girl friend.

The trio, armed with a gun, club and knife, and masked, demanded Walker's wallet, removed about $9 from it, gave it back to him and warned him not to drive off for a half-hour.

Tire Is Slashed

Meanwhile one of the trio let the air out of one of Walker's auto tires while another of the tires was slashed.

Walker then drove to Cumberland and notified local police, who began an investigation with Ridgeley authorities.

The three youths went back to the area and saw other parked cars which, in the meantime, pulled out.

Later, two other cars were approached and the driver of the sixth car in the vicinity of the gravel pit near the airport, reportedly kicked one of the trio in the shins and they left.

The driver of the first and sixth cars reported the incident to Chief Detrick. On Tuesday night Chief Detrick said he saw the trio near Wiley Ford but was on the lookout for a car which supposedly was used in the holdup.

Comer and Lloyd are being held in the jail at Ridgeley.

Elda Operators Indicted

An indictment charging the operators of The Elda, roadhouse along Braddock Road, with allowing three men to drink a quantity of alcoholic beverages on their premises after midnight last Saturday was placed on the open docket in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

George Boch and Frances Boch, identified as the owners, operators and managers of The Elda, were charged in the indictment with allowing Russell Warnick, Warren White and Donald Carroll to drink and consume a quantity of alcoholic beverages on their premises on Sunday, April 1, sometime after midnight Saturday.

Another indictment docketed yesterday charges Robert W. Rice, a dental technician with offices at 32 Bedford Street, with violating the State Dentistry Law.

The first count of the indictment charges that Rice engaged in the practice of dentistry March 3 without having registered with the State Board of Dental Examiners or without first having applied for and obtaining a license to practice dentistry.

The second count charges that he practiced upon Ivan Lloyd Mills March 3 and was paid $35 for his services. It was charged that he made Mills a set of teeth.

Another docketed indictment charges Kenneth Cecil Weicht with statutory burglary.

Weicht is accused of burglarizing the gasoline service station of Orville Blubaugh on U. S. Route 40 near the western foot of Martins Mountain. About $109.50 worth of merchandise was taken from the building on March 11. Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, investigated the case.

Mitchell Cites Benefits Under GOP

Says Democrat Congress Stalls Labor Program

Beall Charges Demos Are 'Dragging Feet'

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell last night cited record payrolls and employment as an example of how workers fare under a Republican administration.

Speaking at an "Eisenhower for President" box supper, he said more people are at work today at the highest wages in history—with the lowest number of unemployed.

Stabilization of prices, he said, have given today's workers the highest purchasing power in history.

From 1953 to 1955, he said, the purchasing power of workers rose $6 a week, as opposed to the record made 1944 to 1952, when they suffered a net loss of $1.88 a week—in spite of an increase of $21.88 a week.

When benefits in Social Security unemployment compensation and fringe benefits are added, it means, he said, that workers are better off than they have ever been.

Can't Stand Still

He warned, however, that today's dynamic economy cannot stand still.

Mitchell said he has introduced much sound "pro-labor" legislation but, due primarily to the fact that Congress is controlled by Democrats, has been able to secure passage of only one item, the increase in the minimum wages.

He said he has been unable to secure even a hearing on such legislation as industrial safety, federal supervision of health and welfare funds, and maximum working hours in the construction industry.

He said he hoped the people in the November election will change the situation.

In his impromptu speech, given instead of a prepared address due to a delayed arrival, he said it is heartening to see the concern of management and labor for securing equality of job opportunity for the physically handicapped, minority groups and older workers.

"Road To Socialism," Mitchell said, is what happens when you really let the free enterprise system work.

For 20 years, he said, the country was conditioned to the idea that every problem had to be solved in Washington.

What President Eisenhower has done, he said, is to let the enthusiasm and know-how of the country flower.

He termed the reversal of the trend toward centralization the most significant thing that has happened for many years.

Had the country continued down the road of controls, he said, it would have wound up with Socialism.

"Guardian Of People"

Mitchell was introduced by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, whom Mitchell congratulated as a stalwart supporter of labor legislation.

The GOP, Hyde said, has been known as the Grand Old Party. He suggested "Guardian of the People," as a better motto.

It is a good motto, he said, because it is a fact.

Opponents, he said, have accused the Republicans of being the tool of big business.

But the laws passed to keep big business under control were passed under GOP administrations, and the first big "trust buster" was "Teddy" Roosevelt.

Business got big, he said, during the past 20 years under Democratic control.

He charged that the Democrats are hampering efforts to reverse the trend by starving out the Anti-Trust Department.

James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, was master of ceremonies for the dinner held at Ali Ghan Country Club and attended by almost 300 persons.

Cites "Feet-Dragging"

Senator J. Glenn Beall, introduced by Getty as "Mr. C & O Canal Parkway," said he has never seen so much "dragging of feet" as this year.

Democrats, he said, are in the driver's seat in both houses and will not let President Eisenhower's program out of committee.

He cited the agriculture bill as (Continued on Page 13, Col. 8)

Says Labor Legislation Stymied

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking at last night's Eisenhower for President dinner, cited today's economy as an example of how labor fares under a Republican administration, and charged that most of his program is bottled up by Demo-

Keegan Asks Parents' Aid In Keeping Flood Job Safe

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan is issuing an urgent appeal to parents to assist in preventing tragedies during the construction of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program.

The loss of a life on a construction project, he said, is a terrible tragedy, and too much cannot be said and done to prevent such an occurrence.

Children, and particularly adventurous boys, wander around construction jobs where huge equipment, such as cranes, power shovels, bulldozers and earth moving equipment is at work.

Excavations and structures under construction, he added, have a strong magnetic attraction for adventurous youths.

Put On Watchmen
The contractors on jobs performed for the Corps of Engineers are, Keegan said, strongly aware of the attractions their operations have to youngsters, and try to be vigilant at all times to prevent accidents among "sidewalk superintendents," both old and young.

The dangers will increase, he said, as spring advances and brings longer days and youths seek out let's for pent-up energies.

For this reason, the Corps of Engineers has asked its contractors, whenever possible, to increase barriers and to provide night watchmen.

The flood control work under way here, however, covers a large area up and down Wills Creek and the Potomac River.

It has been found impractical, he said, to build big enough fences as barriers without interfering with the movement of equipment and the progress of the work.

Wants Dangers Known
Even if such fences were built, they often become a challenge to be overcome, and the Potomac River, with its strong currents presents a formidable problem.

Night watchmen, he said, are not positive insurance that youngsters will not be hurt.

He said the Corps of Engineers reports a night watchman on one of its projects was stoned and seriously hurt by teen-agers he was trying to protect.

When a night watchman goes to another location while on his rounds, the temporarily unguarded areas may be invaded.

It is of the utmost importance, Keegan said, that boys and girls be made aware of the dangers involved in construction work.

On the flood control job, they include deep and swift water, treacherous currents—particularly during high water, excavations with muddy and slippery slopes, construction equipment with operators who cannot see children darting into the path of the equipment, nails projecting from boards, loose boards on temporary bridges and the ever-present danger of earth moving equipment roaring up and down the creek.

Safety In Distance
The police official urged parents to assist in preventing a tragedy by warning their children of the dangers and advising them to stay away from the work areas.

The only safe way, he said, is for children to stay at a safe distance from the equipment and to keep out of the construction area.

The work being done by the Corps of Engineers, he said, will be a great benefit to the city.

The accidental loss of a life of a single child, or a serious injury to one of them, he said, "is not the price we want to pay for progress."

Senator Beall Sees Seven Naturalized

Seven foreign-born residents of Allegany and Garrett counties were naturalized as citizens of the United States in a ceremony in the Allegany County Court House here yesterday afternoon.

Senator Beall sat on the bench beside Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in the ceremony in the recently redecorated court room.

Judge Harris cautioned the group of seven women that they were taking a serious step in pledging their faith to a new country and said this should not be done for selfish reasons or ulterior motives.

He cited some of their rights and obligations as citizens of the United States. He told the seven women that the two most important documents in the development of a democracy here were the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution.

Recalls History
Judge Harris also recalled that the United States as a republic is 169 years old, much younger than other republics which eventually collapsed because selfish men assumed the power of leadership.

In closing he expressed his appreciation to Senator Beall for the latter's help in the acquisition of the furnishings which had stood unused in the federal courtroom at the Post Office Building for more than 15 years. He termed it a great service to the people of Allegany County.

As a result of the agreement under which the county acquired the solid walnut furnishings, the federal government was given the right to hold Federal Court in the Allegany County Court House whenever the need should arise. The space formerly occupied by the federal court room is now being used by the Post Office.

Sensor Beall then briefly offered his congratulations to the seven candidates for United States citizenship. He said he considered it a real pleasure to see these new citizens receive their oath of allegiance to this country.

Wants Laws Fixed
Maryland's junior senator then told the women that he thought there were a lot of discriminations in the McCarran-Walter Act and he expressed a hope that this Congress might amend the act to make it easier for more people to come to this country and become citizens here.

Calvert County Is Overrun By Senate Aspirants

Tydings, Mahoney, Williams Stumping

[By The Associated Press]
Calvert County was practically overrun with political candidates Friday as Democratic Senate aspirants Millard Tydings, George P. Mahoney and George Washington Williams swept through Southern Maryland seeking votes.

Rep. Richard E. Lankford, running for re-election as Fifth District congressman, and his primary rival, L. Harold Sotheron, were also reported in the area.

Tydings got the endorsement of Calvert County's State Sen. Louis L. Goldstein, who showed him around.

Backs Tydings
"I am for Tydings and I am going to escort him around the County. I would have gone around the County with Mr. Mahoney if he had asked me. But Mr. Tydings asked me and Mr. Mahoney did not," said Goldstein.

The Senate president took Tydings through Prince Frederick and other communities in a typical "shoe leather" invasion, entering stores and public places to introduce the candidate and seek support for him.

Tydings declared that the present campaign is the most intensive he has waged since 1938 when the late President Roosevelt came out against him in a speech at Denton.

Tydings was a U.S. senator for 24 years before his 1950 defeat at the hands of the incumbent Republican, John Marshall Butler.

Candidates Meet
Tydings and Mahoney encountered each other briefly in the county commissioners' office at Prince Frederick. They exchanged brief but pleasant greetings and continued to other offices.

Mahoney has never carried Calvert in his previous attempts at public office, but came within 80 votes of wresting it from H. C. Byrd in the 1954 gubernatorial primary which Byrd won by a narrow margin.

The county central committee has declared itself neutral in the coming May 7 primary battle. The three county commissioners, however, have declared for Mahoney.

Garner Grover, of St. Leonard's, is the county campaign manager for Mahoney.

Williams planned to attend the dinner meeting Friday night of the Calvert County Democratic Women's Club. He has based much of his campaign on outspoken opposition to integration of white and Negro children in public schools.

Among those who signed up yesterday were 57 Republicans, 48 Democrats and one independent.

At the Court House there were 60 registrants. Thirty-nine signed up as Democrats and 21 as Republicans.

Heaviest activity outside Cumberland was at Frostburg, where 19 registered, all but two as Republicans. Lonaconing added 12 new voters, all but two Republicans. Democrats got a slim edge in Westernport where four Democrats, three Republicans and one independent registered. At Mt. Savage all except one of the seven signed up as a Republican.

Papers Seeking Old Photos For Special Editions
The Cumberland News and the Cumberland Evening Times will publish "old fashioned" editions April 26, and want an "assist" from their readers.

Last year after similar editions were printed many photographs of old time scenes were offered for publication. Now is the time to bring these photographs to the Times-News office. The older the photograph, the better. The pictures should be of subjects in greater Cumberland area.

The name and address of the owner should be printed in ink on the back of the photographs, which will be returned to the owners.

This is an opportunity to let your neighbors share something of the past from Cumberland. Bring or send your old photographs to the Times-News editorial office not later than April 18.

Police Arrest Two Youths In Airport Holdup

Third Suspect Is Implicated

Two youths were in custody last night as members of a teenage trio which staged an armed holdup Tuesday evening at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, robbing a Somerset man of $9 and some change. A third youth was expected to be arrested today.

Local authorities and police of Ridgeley worked hand-in-hand in the arrest of the youths and State Police at LaVale were called last night to apprehend the third youth, who was implicated by the other two.

Police Chief Harry L. Detrick of Ridgeley arrested Emil Comer, 18, of Wiley Ford Thursday night and later William M. Lloyd, 17, of 405 South Cedar Street, city, gave himself up to Chief Detrick.

Give Statements
Police said the two youths admitted taking part in the late evening holdup and gave statements to Chief Detrick and City Police Detective Joseph H. Stichter.

Maryland State Police at LaVale were given a description of the third boy and were requested to take him into custody. The trio will be given a preliminary hearing before C. J. Phillips, justice of the peace in Ridgeley.

Warrants charging armed robbery were sworn out against the three youths.

Police said the trio met Tuesday, decided to "get into a little trouble," and proceeded to the airport area.

They approached one parked car, police said, but the driver threatened to call police and drove away.

Next the three youths went to the parked car occupied by George E. Walker, of Somerset, Pa., who was sitting in the car with his girl friend.

The trio, armed with a gun, club and knife, and masked, demanded Walker's wallet, removed about $9 from it, gave it back to him and warned him not to drive off for a half-hour.
